In The Name Of ALLAH, The Compassionate, The Merciful

hereby, declare this disdainful parlimentary vote (Capitulation) to be against fam and the Quran....I declare for the world to know that the problems of the anian nation and all the Muslims are caused by foreigners, especially merica....It is America which is pressuring Iran's parliament and goverment to adopting and executing this shameful act in negation of our Islamic and ational honours. It is America which is making such savageries and even worse, ith the nation of Islam."

nam Khomeini (May his soul rest in peace) October 26, 1964

h Iran's contemporary history, the Consular Ruling Rights (Capitulation) is mong the worst cases of violating independence and national sovereignty. This seemingly legitimate mould of colonialism, has not only guaranteed breign domination, but it has also paved the way for the foreign agents to xercise their influence over the country's structure of government allowing hem, as well, to commit innumerable crimes against the oppressed muslim ation. Penal laws that were to personify the government's soverignty, were in fact manipulated by puppet elements and were ignored in the easiest manner (apitulation" as unilateral documents or treaties, on whose basis, the possible, wich the endResult being that every criminal who willed to go on with overnments of ancient Syria, Lebanon and North Africa, determined the legal his treacheries, could place himself at the disposal of foreign powers for atus of foreigners that used to reside within the boundaries controlled by the ttoman Empire, there by, granting special privileges and exemptions to the support.

Due to the importance of this issue, as one in the series of elements that uropean Nationals.

turned the Corrupt Pahlavi Regime into an all out protege of the U.S. In common legal terms, "Captiulation" refers to the Consular Ruling imperialism, and because of horrible political, cultural and social impacts of vstem, as well as certain degrees Judiciary guarantees, privileges and that rigime's tremendous treachery in the form of adopting Capitulation, the mmunities granted the subjects of christian governments in non- christian second volume of the book entitled "The U.S. Military Advisory Mission in erritories as a result of unilateral decisions, pacts or other forms of legal Iran" was appropriated to cover this important point in detail. A power and Judicial ruling authority allow the readership an ease of approach to the core of the issue.

"Capitulation" In Definition

The word "Capitulation" has been derived from the Latin word "Capitulare" or the Italian "Capitulazione", indicating: the negotiation of a pact or treaty, or the pact itself. Some researchers beleives that when the first treaty was signed There has always been a discussion among the world's countries dealing with between Arabs and Christians that resided in ancient Syria, about half the type of legal rights or protections, foreigners should or should not enjoy, population used to speak Italian, allowing for this word imply a treaty among wet no common rules have come about. The establishment of trade and cultural the christians and non- christians. Others have even gone as for as claiming dies with foreigners has led countries, strongly opposed to any legal privileges that it was the word for the arabic phrase of "Temporary Peace"

Irrespevtive of its vocabulary-wise roots, the Europen law history refers to practically impossible, to a point, where some beleive that there should be no difference between insiders and outsiders as far as rules and regulations are concerned.

In recent centuries, consular judgement was established in China, Japan, the Ottoman Empire, Iran, Egypt, and other Asian and African contries, to the benefit of the domineering countries. In 1535, when Soleiman Qanooni was in power, the Ottoman Empire, negotiated a trade pact with the king of France, Francois I, on the basis of which, and for the first time, french nationals residing within Ottoman–controlled territory were deemed to be subject to the French Consular Rulings. Since the Ottomans were most powerful at the time, historians noted the granting of such concessions as something emanating form the so–called Islamic Spirit of Moderation versus foreigners, and because the case was without any solid precedent they have, since, lablled it "TheFirst Privilege". Later, of course, when Ottomans entered a period of weakness and disintegration, that same concession or "privilege" paved the ground for the outsiders increasing interference, which accelerated that Empire's division.

In Safavid–Era–Iran, ties with foreigners expanded, and foreigners were being treated well, although no consular privilege was granted. But articles 16 and 17 of a treaty signed by Safavid king, Sultan Hussein, and his french counterpart Louis XIV (1708) called for a concessions, as a result of which, first, the french consular officer was the only legal entity authorised to deal with disputes involving french citizens residing in Iran; secondly, depriving Iranian Judges of the right to deal with issues between the french and other foreigners, thirdly, when there was a dispute between a French and Iranian, the Iranian juudge could take up the case only at the presence of the french consular officer. Fortunately, since the concession had been extended towards the end of the Safavid dynasty's reign, it practically did not bring about foreign domination of Iran, a major indiction as to why it is rarely referred to as a cornerstone for foreign influence, in the form of "Capitulation", over Iran.

In the wake of the "Gulistan" treaty which followed the first case of n-Russian war and the secession of part of Iranian territory, the second case the two neighbour's conflict led to the conclusion of "Turkman-chai" treaty 1828, which heavily damaged Iran. According to the chapter 8 of this treaty: "A Russian national or a third contry citizen accused of a crime, would be mune to harassments, until his case is proven. Even in that case, if the nvict is specifically a Russian, local government authorities should not put m on trial in the absence of a Russian consular officer. If there is no Russian nubassy or Consulate in the area, local authorities shall take the accused, to a cality where either one is available, along with an affidavite signed by the cal judge.

This affidavite which is sent to where the trial would be taken place, is onsidered to be the legal document for the case, unless the convict proves his nocence. Finally, when the accused is found guilty of a crime, he is turned wer to the Russian ambassador, charge D affairs, or consular officer, who ould send him to Russia to be penalised according to Russian regulations". In Iran, Capitulation gradually turned into a phenomenon which was not a ponopoly of Russia, since several other governmemts taking advantge of the rinciple of most favored state, obtained the privilege, and imposed their thuence on Iran's judicial and political apparatus. England, France, America, bermany, the Austro–Hungarian Empire, Italy, Spain, Belgium, Greece and yen the Ottoman Government enjoyed the same privilege.

Aftermaths Of Capitullation

The reinstatement of Capitulation was tantamount to a considerable increase increase in the authority of foreign consular officers who expanded their apport for their own nationals to include citizens of the host nation. A letter from the consular officer would enable his interpreter and the rest of the stations local staff to enjoy his support. Certain other citizens too, for religious, trade or consular reasons could obtain the same letter and resist local authorities. Ultimately leading to a situation, where, consular officers provided such letters (on the basis of political considerations, or even in return for money) to any local people, without even attempting to obtain the consent or agreement of the host government. As a result, some local officials went as far as negating their original nationalities in order to further enjoy legal privileges of Capitulation.

In addition to unfavorable political outcomes, Capitulation raised crime rates from the social standpoint of view. And on the economec side, it eliminated all obstacles, allowing foreigners to import into the country or smuggle out of it, whatever they wished. Violation of the host country's judicial sovereignty was a case, more important than the aforementioned. Capitulation deprived local people of a full judiciary support giving foreigners an upperhand in their affairs. Increasing intervention by diplomatic and consular representatives, had placed the host nation's ruling authority under the control of foreigners, allowing even the lowest ranking affiliates of a mission to influence its routine and daily affairs. This situation, created numerous jobs in connection with Embassies and brought about a congregation of religious and tribal minorities around consular posts. One of the interesting yet unfortunate cases was the eruption of occasional clashes between officials and supporters of a country's consular station and those of another nation. In that, the deputy consule of Russia and a group of his sympathizers would launch an attack on the Ottoman consular post, with the latter making up for it on another occasion.

All throughout the period when Capitulation was in force in Iran, there were massive and restricted opposition to the situation. At the time of the constitutional revolution, the authoritarian government in Iran in a bid to deceive people, suppress public outrage and attract their consent, released he Rule of Justice» whose first chapter stipulated that: «The Ministry of stice is hereafter authorised to take up and review any and all legal cases or unus filed against foreigners, local nationals government officials or usinessmen. «Although this law was not effective in leading to a concellation Capitulation, yet the content of its first chapter demonstrated the extent of uppular anger at the enforcement of the case.

Abolition of Capitulation

Late 19th and early 20th century netnessed an end to Capitulation in different orms. In 1894, Japan was the first country to embark in that direction. In 1914, the ttoman Empire urged the Europeans to stop utilizing Capitulation, and nilaterally abolished it. But the American government declared the Ottoman Empire's unilateral measure an null and void. In 1919, the Europeans put an end o Capitulation in Turkey which in 1923 signed the Luzan agreement and brougt the case to a complete close throughout the country. Greece (1914), Morroco 1920), Thailand (1927), Iraq (1931), Ethiopia (1936), Egypt (1937) and China 1926) followed suit conditionally, putting an ultimate end to the practice in 1949. After that year, there were only Bahrain and Muscat, wherein, foreigners enjoyed Capitulation privileges.

In 1928, the government of «Samsam–ol–Saltaneh» passed the following in ran: a) «All treaties, pacts and concessions obtained by the autocratic Russian state in Iran in the past one hundred years, were the results of pressures and coercions exerted through illegitimate means such as threats and briberies, and contradicted the Iranian nation's interests, and are hereby declared as null and viod on the basis of Iran's constitution and sovereignty;

b) All legal cases involving foreigners and Iranians would hereafter fall within the Jurisdiction of the Ministry of Justice and not the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.» Yet the western states continued to utilize the privilege, and even embarked on setting up their own armed forces within their mission premises, arguing that they international relations, as well as the increaning opposition of the Iranian nation nd their dependent's coverage by the immunities contained in the Vienna to Capitulation, the national consultative assembly of Iran in 1927 declared the ronvetion. The U.S. government wished to obtain those privileges through a «Abolition of Capitulation», and set a one-year deadline for states that enjoyed the privilege, to negotiate new terms with the country. France was the first to start the process with other states gradually taking the same steps, and signed of Capitulation», knowing full well that Iran's past and bitter experiences would friendship, residence, commerce, customes and navigation treaties with Iran. Equal rights, mutual respect and adherence to international regulations were accepted as prevailing norms by either side.

But in 1961, the U.S. government once again called for its military advisors' immunity from Iran's judiciary system, which revived Capitulation. This time, the Iranian regime was so dependent on America, that it not only paved the way for U.S. advisors' non-trial in Iran, but also prevented officials from detaining the former even for limited periods of time in order to proceed with preliminary investigations. And since the mojority of Americans residing in Iran were comprised of military advisors and diplomatic staff, Capitulation privileges embraced all Americans that used to live across the country.

The Neo – Capitulation

In January 1961, John F. Kennedy stepped into the White House as president, while anti-colonialist campaigns of the third world nations and communist tendencies had grown to a considerable extent in the world. To confront communism and the third world nations independence seeking struggles, Kennedy launched a new strategy, forcing puppet governments to carry out a series of superficial reforms in their respective countries. In that connection, Ali Amini turned out as Iran's prime minister in 1961 and immediately proceeded with implementing reforms Kennedy had in mind.

10 months later, the Kennedy administration sent a diplomatic memo and After the first world war and the ensuing attitude prevailing over the issue of alled on the Amini government to provide for the Amermican Military Advisors here exchange of memos, but Amini who was known for his notorious Consortium Agreement», did not want to increase his notoriety as «the Reviver raw out a dangerous fate for the reiterator of such a treacherous action. herefore Amini who maintained the premiership post until 5 months after the .S. filed its request, refrained from giving a response.

Alam's Cabinet

In April 1962, the Shah travelled to the U.S. and persuaded his masters that he as personally able to perform the artificial reform and that there was no need for person like «Amini». Upon returning to Iran, he forced Amini into resignation, ppointing "Asadollah Alam" as the new premier.

9 months later, the Shah declared that he intended to put his so- called «White Revolution» to a referendum for popular approval. As a result of the contents of s 6 articles, Imam Khomeini (May ALLAH bless his soul) and other urisprudents boycotted the referendum. One month later the government of lam who had held a bogus referndum, announced the «White Revolutions» pproval by the people, following which Kennedy sent a felicitation message to he Shah.

A month and a half after the White Revolution Show, Alams' cabinet began to eview the U.S. request for it's military advisors' immunity. Irans' foreign ninistry, through a note to the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, declared its concurrence with the latter part of the U.S. note regarding the high ranking members of the Advisory misson who hold diplomatic passports to give them diplimatic status until they can enjoy the relevant immunities and advantages-and concerning the rest of the staff of the American Advisoty mission also some studies are under way in order to provide them, too, with more advantages and facilities (Document 2) But the regime in Iran made no reference to the U.S. request that American Advisors' dependents residing in Iran were also to be covered by those immunities.

In the meantime, the Shah who was outraged at the clergymen and Imam Khomeini's leadership of the movement, instructed his commando units on april 1963 to raid the «Faizieh Theology School». Thus, the clergymens' struggles entered a new phase, and in the month of «MOHARRAM», people demonstrated in front of «mar-mar» palace and chanted «Death The Dictator». The Shah issued instructions for the detention of Imam Khomeini, who then was transferred to Tehran on June 5, 1963. This trigerred the popular uprising which was crushed by the regime whose agents martyred a large number of demonstrators.

At the time of Amini's premiership in 1961, Iran's Parliament was abolished, a state which continued for two years. In 1963, Alams' government held a so-called election to form the National Consultative Assembly (21st term) and the Senate (fourth term), selecting deputies for both, from among the participants of a so-called congress of «freemen and freewomen». One month later the new parliament resumed its sessions.

Before handing the premiership to Hassan-Ali Mansour, Alam had presented all of his government bills to the parliament to be approved. Yet, «Capitulation» Bill was rendered almost at the end of his cabinet's term, so that the parliament without even a lunch break. Even the deputies' request to adjorn for another would not have sufficient time for its review, leaving the Bill's defence to the next cabinet.

26 days after the Capitulation Bill was presented to the Senate, that is on march 1964, Alam's term of office as premier ended, and Hassan-Ali Mansour placed him. The «Iran-nowin» party headed by Mansour was an offshoot of the Kanoone-moteraghi» which was a center of congregation for U.S. educated mians, with its members being those who had been trained under «Truman's octrine» to protect U.S. interests.

5 months later the Senate took up the case of Capitulation in its open session. he Bill which was the last of a series of bills placed in its agenda, was approved by nators on july 25, 1964 almost at the final part of their session which was at idnight then it was sent to the Consultative Assembly for final approval.

It is interesting to note that the Pahlavi regime always considered the abolition Capitulation as a major achievment of the Reza-Shah's government. Its instatement, therefore, was one of the hardest blows the regime sufferred. But officials were incapable of turning down the U.S. request due to their clinations. Iran's foreign ministry officials, for example, who were to protect the ational interests of Iran, used to call on the U.S. to tell them how they could work maintain the United States, illegitimate interests in Iran. «Mirfendreski» who as deputy foreign minister at the time, had urged the U.S. Embassy in Tehran to ovide him with in formation that could be usefull in the process of defending the apitulation Bill» in the National Consultative Assembly.

National Consultative Assembly Debate

The Assembly finally took up the «Capitulation Bill» for discussion on October 3, 1964. It session continued from 8 in the morning up to 5 in the afternoon ession was turned down. Mansour's cabinet had decided to get the Bill passed in hat same session, which was tense and reflected strong opposition by certain ucputies. The Diff was infaily put to vote, and was approved with 74 against On Over 50 of the 188 assembly members were absent, with the majority turning o as absentees intentionally. This trend intensified the Americans' concerns, an forced them to search for the roots of such an opposition.

The Shah's Position and The Reward of Treachery

Outraged at the approval process, the Shah implicitly denounced deputie charging them with conspiracy and espionage, adding that the position taken b certain members was intolerable. Ultimately, they were instructed to take bac nderstanding as a result of which the «Great Satan» would never be able to their words using pretexts such as «Misunderstandings» or «Insufficient netrate our country. Elaborations».

Following the Bill's Approval, the U.S. agreed to provide Iran with a 20 million dollars loan for the sole purpose of American-manufactured arm procurement. That was the trivial amount the Shah's regime received, in return for its treachery.

The Position taken by the Imam Khomeini

Imam Khomeini (May ALLAH bless his soul) immediately reacted to the Bill Approval by the National Consultative Assembly. In a fully critical speech in Qun city, the Imam stated:

«They sold out our Independence, yet held celebrations... the former cabinet ha already made the approval, without telling anyone about it. The present one tool it to the Assembly several days ago, after having it passed by the Senate, gettin the case finished and kept quiet about it... The government took sides with the infamous Bill. They degraded the nation of Iran to a level even below an american The following sources have been used as far as certain definitions and historical dog... Why? Because they wanted to obtain U.S. loans... I warn you... We are to rases in the context of this book's introduction are concerned: deal with these dirty ones, with the Americans... All of our troubles are caused by the U.S., and by Israel. Israel belongs to the U.S., and these deputies are Americans...»

This speech discredited the regime to the extent that Premier Mansour had to spond. Before the Senate, he tried to justify the treachery by making false and seless statements in a bid to neutralize any discontent, but failed to be of any nefit to the Shah's regime.

It is hoped that the present series of documents would expose America's egitimate interference in our country's affairs, as well as treacheries committed its affiliates. The collection is also hoped to arm us with a thourough

Note No. 423

The Embassy of the United States of America presents its compliments to the Imperial Ministry of Foreign Affairs and has the honor to refer to the Ministry's Note No. 6266 of February 7, 1962 indicating the desire of the Imperial Iranian Government to retain for another year (until March 21, 1963) the services of the United States Military Advisory Missions initially provided for in the agreements of November 27, 1943 and October 6, 1947.

The Embassy is pleased to state that the United States Government is agreeable to so extending the services of those Advisory Missions which will continue to be conducted in accordance with the terms of the aforenoted agreements as modified by exchanges of Notes at Tehran on December 29, 1948 and January 5, 1949, November 28, 1949 and January 10, 1950, relating to the Military Missions; the exchange of Notes of September 11/13, 1948, relating to the United States Military Mission to the Imperial Iranian Gendarmerie; Note No. 596 of April 10, 1961, of the United States Government, and Notes 1344 of June 14, 1961 and 4202 of November 14, 1961 of the Imperial Iranian Government.

At the same time, the Embassy wishes to recall the frequent discussions that have taken place of late between representatives of the two Governments in connection with the problems of increasing importance that have stemmed from the fact that the existing arrangements do not adequately cover the question of the status of the United States Advisory Mission personnel in Iran.

In that connection, the United States Government believes that it would be in the interest of the two Governments to have a general understanding covering this matter so as to remove any reason for uncertainty and thereby facilitate the efficient functioning of these advisory personnel. To that end, the Embassy has the honor to suggest simply that such personnel shall have the privileges and immunities specified for "Members of the Administrative and Technical Staff" in the Convention annexed to the final act of the United National Conference on Diplamatic Intercourse and Immunities signed at Vienna, April 18, 1961, it being understood, of course, that certain Senior Personnel may by agreement between the two Governments be accorded the status specified in the aforesaid instrument for "Diplomatic Agents".

The Embassy further suggests that in the interest of uniformity and ease of administration the foregoing principle be made applicable to any other United States military personnel or civilian employees of the United States Department of Defense and their families forming part of their households whose presence in Iran is authorized by the Imperial Iranian Government.

The Imperial Ministry of Foreign Affairs presents its compliments to the Embassy of the United States of America, and regarding the exemptions and immunities for the Military Advisory Missions of the United States Government in Iran, it has the honor to state that, considering the request made by the Embassy in the Note No. 423 duted March 19, 1962 where it was stated that the staff of the Advisory Missions should enjoy the privileges and immunities relating to the administrative staff and technical members "provided in the agreement annexed to the final act of the United Nations Conference on Diplomatic Intercourse and Immunities concluded at Vienna and upproved on April 18, 1961 and some senior members of these Missions may by agreement between the two governments be accorded the status for diplomatic agents so that they may enjoy the privileges and immunities that the said agreement has specified for this class and for the maintenance of administrative interests and maintenance of uniformity the above-mentioned principle be made applicable to any military and/or civilian employee of the United States Defense Department and members of the family accompanying him provided that their presence in Iran is authorized by the Imperial Iranian Government" necessary studies were made and the result was brought to the knowledge of the Embassy, i.e. the Vienna International Agreement after its approval by the Iranian Legislative Power shall not apply the members of the Military Advisory Missions of the United States Government in Iran who are under the employ of the Iranian Ministry of War, which requires a separate legal authority, and it, therefore, was decided that necessary statement be attached to the Vienna International Agreement when it is presented to both Houses so that the chief and members of the Military Advisory Missions in Iran may enjoy the privileges, immunities, and exemptions which are provided for "the administrative and technical employees" covered by paragraph F article one of the agreement under question and, of course, the extension of such privileges and exemptions will be subject to the approval of both Houses.

The Imperial Ministry of Foreign Affairs is pleased now to inform the Embassy that the Council of Ministers has agreed to this proposal in accordance with a Decree dated October 5, 1963 and it is decided that this Note and the Note which will be written as a reply

The Embassy of the United States of America presents its compliments to the Imperial Ministry of Foreign Affairs and has the honor to refer to the Ministry's Note No. 8296 of November 17, 1963 (Aban 26, 1342). The Ministry's note states that the Council of Ministers agreed on October 5, 1963 (Mehr 13, 1342) to propose to the National Consultative Assembly that the Chief and the members of the United States' military advisory missions in Iran be accorded the privileges, mmunities and exemptions provided in the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations for "the administrative and technical staff" of the Embassy, as described in Article 1, paragraph (f) of the Convention. The Ministry's note further states that that note and the Embassy's note in reply will be attached for approval to the Vienna Convention at the time the Convention is presented to the National Consultative Assembly and the Senate.

The Embassy understands that the phrase "the members of the United States' military advisory missions in Iran" is applicable to those United States military personnel or civilian employees of the Department of Defense and their families forming part of their households who are stationed in Iran in accordance with agreements and arrangements between the two Governments relating to military advice and assistance. Accordingly, the Embassy concurs that the Ministry's Note No. 8296 will, when approved by the National Consultative Assembly and the Senate, constitute a favorable and acceptable response to the Embassy's Note No. 423 of March 19, 1962 (Esfand 28, 1341).

The Embassy avails itself of the opportunity to renew to the Imperial Ministry the assurance of its highest considerations.

BILL AUTHORIZING AMERICAN MILITARY ADVISERS IN IRAN TO AVAID THEMSELVES OF THE EXTERPTIONS AND DEMUNITIES OF THE VIEWIA AGREEMENT:

SINGLE ANTICLES dema

With due regard fto Bill No. 2157-2291-18 of 1152 25/11/1342 and its attachments which were submitted to the Senate on 21/11/42 the Government is authorized to extend to the Chief and members of military advisory missions of the United States of who, Amorica in Iran, according to the respective Agreements, are in the employ of the Importal Iranian Government, the immunities and exemptions provided to administrative and technical personnal under paragraph and Article One of the Vienna Agreement which was signed on 18th April, 1961 (29th Farvardin, 1340).

- Chairman: This bill is now under vote and those who are not against are requested to rise. (majority stood up and the bill was approved). Is there any comment?
- Dr. Sadia: It would be appropriate if the Under-Secretary to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs could give some explanations about the matters mentioned here. The exemptions stated under Paragraph (F) of Article One of the Agreement signed at Vienna since it is hard to recall them, could some explanations be given in that connection?

Mr. Chairman: The Under-Sucretary is requested to give some explanations. hr. Mir Fendereaki: As the honorable Senators are aware, the Vienna Agreement which was passed by the Senate had a note attached to it which was signed by the inistry of Foreign Affairs and the United States of America. It was stated in Unit note that the Minitary Advisors of America who are in the employ of the Imporial Iranian Government are to eval themselves of the privileges and immunities which, according to the Vienna Agreement, are extended to technical employees of mbassies. These employees as defined in Paragraph F of Article One are employees who are in charge of administrative and technical duties. That note was exchanged between the Ministry of Forsian Affairs and the Embassy of the United States of Amorica but can only be enforced as a law when it is passed by the two Houses of the Parliament. (Dr. Kaseni: Tell us about those immunities and exemptions). these immunities and exemptions are stigulated in the notes which have been exchanged. As the Prime Minister said there are many thoughts and presumptions which must be revised, as the Senators know that already. It may sound strange to some of you Wat we request exemptions and immanities for a member of foreigners in Iranbut At is not for those foreigners that we request such immunities and examisions but for the services that these foreigners render to us. It was after a mod deal of discussions and consultations with various agencies of our country that we thought At was/meessary that we grant such immunities and engaptions and it was only a ter exemption which ensepted their salaries from taxation or their households and read stuffs. Furthermore that is not something which we did alone. Other governamts have done the same, The Turkish government has the done the same. The same hes been done by the Greek government. That is on the basis of cooperation which we have with the U.S. Government and it would not be advisable that we give the easy to other governments because we have no defence pact or matual defence pact .It's any other government nor we have some other partner in the defence work of wir country. Now, if you want, I can submit the texts of the notes exchanged. Qualrunni Any other comment of general nature? No one, We take vote to discuss the single article. Those who are in favour, please stand up. (majority stood up). No Bingle Article is under discussions. Mr. Masudi, please,

In Apporture I would like to make the matter clear a little bit especially for there who have some doubts in this mespect. This matter has been discussed in several meetings of the Foreign Committee in t's presence of all its members.

Besides Dr. Anir Hekmat and myself, unfortunately the other members of the Committee are not present at this meeting to give some further explanations. Some menths ago the matter was discussed in the present of Dr. Ansari, the former Under-Secretary of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and was given full consideration. Inasmich as the Vienna Agreement should have been ratified first we kept this matter pending but it was studied thoroughly and we got whatever clarifications that we needed from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The matter was discussed a second time in the presence of Mr. Mir Fendereski and it was at that time that the Vienna Agreement was submitted to the both houses of the Majless and was approved. Then this report was sent to the War Committee and was approved there. It was then sent to the Foreign Committee and was confirmed by this committee and than it was sent to the Houses of the Majles. The notes which were exchanged are here and if needed I will read them. You will see that these notes which were signed by the Min. of F. Affairs and the Embassy of the United States of merica are such that you will be contented and I am sure that your views are ensured here. I an sure after reading there will be no more misunderstanding. Chairmant Is there any comment regarding the Single Article? (There was none). The Single Article is put to vote: these in favour. please stand up. (majority stood un It was approved. Now the bill in general is put to vote. Is there any comment? (there was none) These who are in favour, please stand up. (Majority stood up). It was approved. The bill is sent to the Majless for final vote. Adjournment, Mid nicht.

Retification of the Vienna Convention, with its attached Exchange LICHEAFSA of Notes defining the status of American military personnel in Iran, has made substantial progress in the Parliament, due to constant prodding by this Embasay: but action was not completed by the time the Majlis took its summer racess on July 26 -- although the peckage came very clove to final vatification.

> The legislative process was initiated in the Senate, where the Foreign Relations Committee passed both the Vienne Convention and the Exchange of Notes without difficulty; but matters became a little conplicated when the Senate Armed Services Committee decided that the Convention itself should be voted on first, with the Exchange of Hotes to be passed after action on the Convention itself had been completed.

This block, which had no substantive significant but resulted in some unnecessary delays, would not have occurred if the Government had wen allers; but despite our constant prodding with the Foreign Minister, the Prime Minister and selected contacts in both Houses of Parliament. the possibility of arbitrary action in the Semate Armed Services Committee had been overlooked.

Lattors were finally placed on an even usel again when the Senate. at the request of the Government (stimulated by the Subasey) voted priority for the Exchange of Notes so that it could be considered furing the special session called to consider the supplementary budget. considered the Vienna Convention itself -- minus the Exchange of Notes, which had not yet passed the Senate -- and brought it to first meding.

One reason for the Senate's protracted delay in considering both documents, we were told by Senator Ahmed Matin-Daftary, a member of the Foreign Relations Counities, was that the translation of the Vienna Convertion submitted by the Government was defective; and Matin-Daftery, who is proved of having signed the Convention in Vienna on behalf of the Iranian Government, insisted on personally rendering it into the Persian Language.

As soon as urganay was voted by the Senate, the Exchange of Hotes was reported out and brought to a vote in plenary last week; and it was passed, but not without subsequent complaint in the corridors from several Senators who voiced objections on the familiar grounds that unusual privilegee were being granted to foreigners. "Capitulation" was apparently mentioned. The bill was immediately referred to the Majlis, where the Government again requested the urgany procedure.

As of the time of adjournment of the Hajlis, the situation is thus as follows: Action on the Vienna Convention itself has been completed by the Senate and the bill has had its first reading in the Hajlis. The Embanage of Notes has also obtained full Senate approval, and it will be dealt with in only single reading in the Majlis, after it has been comsidered by the Foreign Affairs and Armed Services Committees there.

Ever since before this legislation was introduced, we have been in touch with key Majlis deputies to assure smooth sailing of the bill. Barly notice by the Majlis when it reconvenes in late September is now altogether likely; but the possibility still exists that news of the disgeneticment of some of the Senators over the Exchange of Motes will filter down to the Majlis and may yet cause some difficulties there.

The Government, which has effective control of three quarters of the Majlis deputies, is theroughly sware of the importance which we attach to this matter and is propared to give it a push as soon as the Lower House recommens; but the record of past failure and inefficiency in handling this piece of legislation does not warrant complete confidence that no further hitch may red dowelep in the proceedings. On belance, however, we are reasonably confident now that redification will be completed soon after the summer receve.

Dear Gardous

As you know, the Vienna Convention and its application to U. S. wilitary personnel in Iran has passed the Senate and will be taken up in the Hejlis when it convenes, probably in early October. We are now getting some rusblings concerning possible questions and/or objections in the Majlis, and Mirfendereski, who will handle the motion there for the Fernim Office, has saired us for all information which might be helpful. We have mustered the agreements and date which we have here, but could use snything additional that you might contribute. It would, for example, be helpful to know something concerning the present state or prospects of ratification of the Convention in the United States, and up-to-date report on the number of countries which have ratified the Convention or are likely to do so in the future, information concerning my constries in which the terms of the Convention are now actually being applied, and the probable date when a sufficient member of countries will have ratified the agreement to bring it into effect. We have given the Foreign Office the text of the relative portion of the Pakistan status-offorces agreement. Some interest has also been expressed in the agreement covering our wilitary advisers in India. If this is available and can be used without embarramment, it also might be helpful. In short, any kind of additional information which would contribute to our position would be appreciated. As the watter will be coming up shortly in the Majlis. we would have to have this information soon for it to be of use.

New subject. We have noted the reports from Kabul conserving Afghan acquisition of SAM missiles. It construct to me that it might be useful to get to the Afghans sour factual account of the unsatisfactory Iraqi experience with Soviet SAM's. This is obviously not the place to do it, but you might try it out on the Turkish Dask to see whether they might want to get the Turks to fill the Afghans in. Our concern, of course, lies in the possibility that Afghan development of this capability might provoke additional Iranian requests for Hawk battalions around Zahedan or Meshed.

You recall the queries from Senator Frvin's office regarding J. A. Jones' difficulties with the judicial processes here concerning claims and counter-claims between J. A. Jones and its Iranian subcontractor, the Malayer Company. We took this matter up with the Foreign Office back in June and received expressions of concern and sympathetic interest there and a suggestion that the Legal Section of the Foreign Office would be willing to discuss with Jones' representatives what possible course of action might be usefully explored. Then and since them we have informed J. A. Jones Company here of this position and offered to introduce their representative to the Foreign Office. J. A. Jones has not yst asked us to go with them to the Foreign Office. We think this is about as far as we can go in being helpful until they avail themselves of this suggestion. I am not suggesting that you volunteer any of this to Senster Frvin's office, but you should knew it in case you get another query from there.

September 21, 1964

TO: The Charge FROM: John A. Armitagent SUBJECT: Vienna Convention in the Majlis

Khazemi, head of the Legal Section of the Foreign Office, is doing the staff work for Mirfendereski in preparation for the presentation of the Vienna Convention to the Majlis. He called Saturday to discuss some of the possible points of contention.

The most significant point regards the question of whether ARMISH military personnel - as distinct from MAAG personnel - are "employed" by the Iranian Government and, if so, whether they can then be extended the requested immunities.

I told Khazemi that following passage of the Mansfield Amendment, we had extensive discussion with the Foreign Office which resulted in agreement on procedures whereby compensation for these military personnel would be paid to the U.S. Government and not to the advisers as individuals. I said that I thought it would be our view that this would obviate any presumption of an employer-employee relationship with the GOI. Also, I of course reiterated that military personnel were clearly agents of and under the discipline and orders of the U.S. Government in the first instance.

Related to this problem is the fact that the Article passed by the Senate refers to military personnel "who are in the employ" of the GOI. This is the other side of the coin, as a strict interpretation of the Article would be that the Vienna Convention applied (1) to no U. S. military personnel (if our position regarding employment obtained) or (2) only to the ARMISH personnel if the GOI interpretation held. The Article also refers to "respective agreements" and Khazemi indicated that he would be prepared to advance the legal opinion that the bill as worded in the Senate should be applied to all persons covered in the exchange of notes.

However, I note that Mirfendereski is reported in the Senate notes as having referred to "military advisers of the USA who are in the employ of the Imperial Iranian Government."

In your next conversation with Mirfendereski, I believe it would be useful if you could (1) point out the inadvisability of his using the term "in the employ of the GOI" in his presentation to the Majlis; reference to the advisers should note that they are in Iran at the express request of the Iranian Government; (2) obtain his assurance that the bill as now worded in the Senate Article can be applied to U. MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD

ARJA

SUBJECT: Pending Immunities Bill

1. (C) On 20 September 1964 I met with Dr. Kazemi of the Legal Section. Ministry of Foreign Affairs, at the request of Mr. John Armitage, U. S. Embassy, Tehran. The subject of discussion was the pending Majlis ratification of the Vienna Convention and the accompanying Note making the Convention applicable to American military personnel in Iran. Dr. Kazemi indicated that the scope of discussion was tooobtain information to meet possible objections against passage of the bill by members of the Majlis. His first area of concern was based on the actual relationship of the members of ARMISH/MAAG to the Iranian Government. He felt if members of ARMISH/MAAG were considered as employees of the Iranian Government it could possibly be said that the terms of the Vienna Convention did not apply. It was pointed out that an argument existed to the effect that ARMISH/ MAAG advisory personnel were not in fact employees of the Iranian Government but could only be employees of the United States Government. That the relationship of employer-employee could not exist from the standpoint of US law particularly referring to the Mansfield Amendment of 1959 which precludes Government employees from accepting reimbursement for services from a foreign government. It was emphasized by me that the relationship of American personnel to the Iranian Government was not that of employeremployee but that the United States could be compared to a prime contractor dealing with another and that American personnel were employees of the contractor --- not of the other party to the contractor. Dr. Kazemi indicated that he liked this simile and would prefer to use this argument but he might also strengthen it with the compensation idea. An extract of this law was supplied the following day to Dr. Kazemi where it was emphasized that this bill also provides that arrangments could be made by the United States for reimbursement to be received for services rendered. Dr. Kazemi agreed that the question of past due compensation for American (ARMISH/MAAG) services would not be introduced into any discussions with Majlis members. However, he felt that it was significant that one element which is always necessary for a relationship of employment, i.e., compensation for services, was missing.

(C) 2. Further, it was revealed that the text of the Senate bill applies the terms of the Vienna Convention to those foreign military personnel who are "employed" by the Iranian Government. Therefore, the conclusion is inescapable that instead of arguing that we are not employees it might even be advisable to extend the scope of the relationship of employer-employee since it is conceivable that the only persons covered by such a law would be those personnel who are accredited (83 in number). Dr. Kazemi assured me that is the bill passed in its present form his interpretation for the Minister of Foreign Affairs would be that all the members of the Mission were included within its scope and not just the accredited members.

(C) 3. With regard to the question of whether ARMISH/MAAG personnel should be within the scope of an employer-employee relationship I believe we should prepare to move in either direction if it becomes obvious that a definition of terms is a stumbling block to passage of the bill. This could be done in one of two ways. (1) One position would be to delete all reference to the term "ARMISH". This would be realistic from a factual point of view since there is no actual discrimination as to the responsibilities and duties of the members of ARMISH/MAAG. The 83 accredited personnel are not the sole advisors to Iranian military. Duties are inter-changeable and MAAG versus ARMISH duties are not delineated. (2) The term "ARMISH" could be left intact for legalistic definitive purposes and all of the persons occupying the 83 accredited slots could be transferred to MAAG positions. The impact on the compensation and transportation benefits accrued by having these slots would have to be closely examined and a decision made by higher authorities as to its desirability.

(C) 4. Scope of coverage of the bill, if passed in its present form, was discussed. Dr. Kazemi was initially of the opinion that it would not apply to lower ranking personnel such as non-commissioned officers in the Field Teams. It was pointed out to Dr. Kazemi that ARMISH/MAAG is not a military organization but operates only to implement the objectives of the diplomatic mission. That basic responsibility for ARMISH/MAAG activities was assigned to the Ambassador. Therefore, this left no doubt that a Sergeant stationed for example in Kermanshah, advising the Imperial Iranian Army, was carrying out the mission of the United States Ambassador in Iran.

MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD 21 September 1964 SUBJECT: Pending Immunities Bill

Further, every person assigned to ARMISH/MAAG was assigned because of his technical skill which he utilized in effecting the mission objectives. ARMISH/MAAG does not have personnel assigned in the sense of a military unit whose actions do not contributedirectly to activities which could be defined as technical or administrative. Dr. Kazemi appeared quite satisfied with this explanation and felt there would be no difficulty in accepting the scope as covering every person in ARMISH/MAAG.

(C) 5. Lastly, Dr. Kazemi and I discussed the question of how criminal offenses, committed by members of ARMISH/MAAG. would be handled in the event the immunity bill became law. I explained in some detail that if a military member committed an offense, from the standpoint of discipline we would exercise court-martial jurisdiction over that person. I also indicated that we would defer to the desires of the Government of Iran in the matter of where this jurisdiction was exercised. Dr. Kazemi indicated that he was positive his authorities would prefer that such jurisdiction be exercised outside of Iran. He emphasized this point by referring to Iran's past experience with consular courts. I explained that at this moment the military authorit les exercising court-martial jurisdiction over members of ARMISH/MAAG was the Commander-in-Chief, United States Army, Europe, and that if it became necessary to try a soldier for a serious offense our procedure would be to transfer the soldier to Europe and request that indigenous witnesses be permitted to attend the hearing in Europe at United States expense. If such witnesses were not willing to travel outside of Iran we would request the cooperation of the Ministry of Justice in making such persons available for deposition, and it was further pointed out that the results of trial would be reported to the appropriate Iranian authorities. I emphasized once again the fact that it would be our intention to punish offenders if appropriate under military law. Dr. Kazemi said that this might be a favorable point with members of the Majlis since he was sure that some members would express concern over the fact that some crime might go unpunished.

(C) 6. Dr. Kazemi wanted to know if the United States would waive immunity in cases of particular interest to the Government of Iran. I assured him that this question could not be determined by any one at this level since our regulations required us to submit such requests for waiver to the highest authorities in Washington.

MFH in-box

MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD 21 September 1964 SUBJECT: Pending Immunities B11

However, I emphasized that he must not accept this explanation as being indicative of the United States policy that no waiver would be granted under any conditions. In summary, I simply was not in a position to state what the United States' position would be in advance of a given case.

(C) 7. Considerable time was spent in discussion wherein I outlined to him what the military authorities consider to be the most pressing reasons for passage of this bill. I explained that many persons do not extend their tour in Iran because of the everpresent fear of imprisonment of themselves or their immediate families. I explained that without being unduly critical of Iranian justice, that it simply did not meet the standards of due process which American citizens have come to expect. I emphasized that this fear, whether it be real or imagined, was a definite moralefactor and certainly acted as a deterent to the voluntary extension of tours by ARMISH/MAAG personnel. Many facets of the problem in this wein were discussed. Dr. Kazemi indicated that he felt that this personal approach would be very valuable and would assist him in negating any objections by Majlis members that this bill was designed to confer a privilege on ARMISH/MAAG personnel rather than its real purpose of assisting in accomplishment of our mission.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

Subject: Application of the Visuan Convention to the Status of American Military Personnel in Inco

The question has arisen in the Majlis Foreign Affairs Counities whether the phrase "in the employ" (which came out of the Senate) properly describes the status of American military personnel in Iran. At the advice of the makesy and ANDER/MAG, the Foreign Kimistry has informed the Majlis Foreign Affairs Committee that, in actual fact, American military personnel are have at the invitation of the Iranian Government and are consequently employees of the U.S. Government and not of the Iranian Government. Accourdingly, if the Majlis passes the same ball as was passed by the Sonate, the legislative history is to bring out that the definition of U.S. military personnel in the bill is not completely accurate. This is found desirable by the Iranians in order to avoid the impression that "employees" of the Iranian Government are being accorded diplomatic privileges.

Major Hart of AHMEH/MAAG and Mr. Hers of the Embasay discussed this morning-whether it would be more desirable accept the proposed course of action of the Majlis, or whether we should suggest that the Majlis bill be refram so as to properly describe the status of American military personnel in Iran. It was noted that in the latter case, the bill would have to go again to the Semate, where the incomplete description of the intended coverage has been written into the bill, and this could result in an undesirable quarrel between the two Houses of Parliament, in: further delay in applying the Vienna Convention to our personnel, and in some possible embarrasment to the Iranian Government and to the United. States. There have already been runblings about "cepitulations" in the Semate and in the Majlis, and we have been pushing the Covernment to get legislative action completed as soon as possible. It is possible that the Iranian Government might lose control of the situation if the bill has to go once more to the Semate.

> CONFIDENTIAL GROUP 5 Downgraded at 12 year intervals, not sutcontically declassified.

JULITURY DEPARTMENT

In looking over the original exchanges of noise which the Iranian Parliament has been asked to ratify, we noted that the record of these exchanges does not really define the status of our personnel here beyond any legal doubt. However, we feel that any remaining possible doubt ould be removed in a simple manner, as anggested further below.

We find that the exchange of notes (to which the Senate bill refers) has the following essential elements:

1. The Embessy's Note No. 423 of March 19, 1962 proposed that the Vienna Convention be applied to our military personnel in Iran.

2. Tureign Office Note No. 8296 stated that "mocessary studies wave sade and the result was brought to the knowledge of the Embassy, i.e., the Viscom International Agreement, after its approval by the Internalagislative power, shall not apply to maskers of the Military dvisory Himslens of the U.S. Government in Iran who are in the employ of the Iranian Ministry of War, which requires a separate legal authority, and it was therefore decided that a meesaary statements be attached to the Viscom International Agreement whan it is presented to both Huses, so that the Chind and members of the Military Advisory Missions in Iran may enjoy the privilages immunities and exemptions which are provided for (undar the Viscom Convention.)"

It is our opinion that the implication of Note No. 8296 was that no difficulty existed in extending the privileges of the Vienna Convention to American military personnel except in the case of such personnel as may be employed by the Iranian Government.

5. Foreign Office Note Xo. 8800 of 3/11/63 maid "it is agreed to the latter part of Note No. 425......regarding the high-ranking members of the Advisory Mission who hold diplometic persports to give them diplomatic status until they can enjoy the velocent impurities and advantages (of the Yierren Convention), and concerning the rest of the staff of the American Advisory Mission also some studies are underway in order to provide them, too, with more edvantages and facilities, and the Enhanzy will later be informed of the result."

4. The Embassy's Note No. 299 of November 21, 1965, in reply, noted that the Invalan Covernment will propose to the Parliament that "the Chief and the members of the U. S. Military Advisory Mission in Ivan be accorded

I fee Eo. 423" This make is part of the including a mean in the Sameta and ill presencebly also beens part of the including a Majlie consideration of the bill.

Howeverhalses, we fael that the entire current lagislative metion of the Inseise Generations adjoint to constrain a supplying only to such American shough the U.S. understanding of the inseise Generating Generation there is the Vienne Communities of this work of the Inseise Generation court, that the Vienne Communities would exply to all our military personnel. This U.S. understanding might will be more in the year of an Inseise course. This is the viennelity will be concerned only with the two of an Inseise court, which presentably will be concerned only with the two of an Inseise court, and not with the legislative history. (a concerned in the law itself is Inse.) On the other issue, as we need the two of an Inseise court be properly hald that Bode No. Boyd indicated the is Inseise, it could be properly hald that Bode No. Boyd indicated the issues processed as any be have "in the employ" of the Inseise Communities and privileges to our military personnel who is and these issues these and mention itself to covernment, and mention is not apply personnel. The Inseise operation is another only personnel we the Vienne Communities and apply them to each personnel.

Conclusion

We feel that for reasons stated shows it would not be desimble to suggest that the limits review the current bill to remove the phase "in the exploy, etc.", but that the proposal should be accepted whereby the limits Government would simply make explanations to the effort that American military personnal currently in limit are covered by the Viewan Convention, but that they are not really in the employ of the Izenian Government.

However, it seems to us monenery, in order to evald my possible future uncertainty about the status of our military personnel here, that two further actions be taken immediately subsequent to passage of the bills

CONTRACTOR

(a) A note should be sent to the Irunian Foreign Ministry, and acknowledged by them, pointing out that, after the Parliament has not the problem raised in Note No. 8295, it is our understanding (reitersting what we said in our Note 299) that all American military personnel and their families "whose presence in Irun is authorized by the Imperial Irunian Government" will now enjoy the benefits of the Vienna Convention whether or not they were considered by the Irunian Government as employees.

(b) Steps should be taken to obtain appropriate identification cards for all U.S. military personnel in Iran, in a form which would be acceptable to all police and judicial suthorities, as being proof of their immunities from the eriminal jurisdiction of the Iranian Government.

We make these recommendations because it is conceivable that after passage of this bill an Iranian court of law might hold that American military personnel who are not employees of the Iranian Government are not covered by the law now being considered in Parliament. In the light of the Iranian acceptance of our note numbered 4 above, and the fact that the exchange of notes was submitted to both Houses of Parliament and considered in connection with passage of the Bill, it seems inconceivable that the Iranian Government would not give us the schwowledgeant songht in A above, after the parliamentary action has been completed.

We are delighted to how that the bill relating to the application of the Vienne Convention to American military personnel in Irun will come up shortly for final passage in the Hajlis Sheraye Helli. In this connection, if I understood you correctly teday, you said that it is not enticipated that the Covernment would be required to make any statement in that pleanay section.

As you will recall, we recently discussed the quartion whether the vording of the bill (particularly the words "in the employ of the Imparial Government") might necessitate redrafting since, upon strist interpretation, it is not properly descriptive of what our Governments agreed in the original exchange of noise schulited by your Government for parlimentary retification. We completely understood the reasons why it has not been found practical or desirable to resort to such a combersons presedure. However, as I have had occasion to explain, and as set forth in more detail in the paper which I research that is "legislative history" be established which clarifies the purpert of the bill in order to avoid a later situation might be placed upon the law that is shout to be passed by your Parliament.

I as concerned that, if the Government fails to make an explanatory statement to the Majlis, the opportunity to create such a legislative bistory will have been lost.

The enclosed copy of the paper which I recently handed yes recalls the social scope of applicability of the bill new baffere Parliament as both of our Governments understand it on the basis of the exchange of motes which your Government originally schmitted to Parliament. As you iis Excellency Ahmad Hirfendereski Jodar Secretary for Political and Parliementary Affairs Ministry of Foreign Affairs Tobran are aware, the present lock of precision is due to the fact that, as the bill was reworded in the Senate, it no longer contains an explicit approval of our original exchange.

. It would be most desirable if a spekesman for the Covernment could clarify, when the bill comes up for passage, that it is not intended that the Vienne Convention would apply only to members of the U. S. Hilitary Advisory Mission who are in the employ of the Imperial Covernment, but that it will apply to "all U. S. willtery personnel or civilian employees of the (U. S.) Department of Defense whose presence in Iran is authorized by the Imperial Iranian Covernment."

Sincerely yours,

Stuart W. Rockwell Charge d'affeires s.i.

Because Govt has until recently kept tight censorship on all information and discussion of status bill, and since bill was pushed through Senate under argency procedure without any discussion (see refair), many remore are circulating at present and there is some talk that bill involves "capitulations". Some of these misconceptions are inswitable and innocent and will be cleared up as soon as Govt provides the necessary public explanations. Some, however, are clearly malicious and involve latent opposition toward Govt and mationalist egitation with anti-American overtones.

We are in close touch with Majlis majority and minority elements and are struck by present defensiveness of weakers of Foreign Affairs Committee which recently passed the status bill. They tell us they are presently asselled by colleagues in Majlis and other contacts who in most cases hold gnite outrageous misconceptions shout the bill that Mailis is about to pass. It is obvious that despite efforts of friendly and wellinformed deputies, and despite our own explanatory efforts, these are so far insufficient to dispel all visunderstandings. FonOff recognizes this problem and has assured us that Govt will make real effort to place true facts shout bill before failis and before the public.

Meanshile situation has become somewhat waddled by appearance last week of errenesses and inclusion articles in minor press organs Ashang and Peigh Seria. Ashang has been benned by censors after publishing article spoarent] written by anti-American rabble-rouser Ahund Aramenh. How Peighame Barus article could appear is less clear since that paper is in close touch with dout aconcies. In any event there is evidence of nervousness in Mailis and Govt, but no lessening of resolve to much sheed and put law on the books as scon as possible, perticularly since the Shah has made it clear he wants this dome.

We think this meeting will help calm the atmosphere, but we also think that after the bill has passed we must be prepared for some gesture on part of regime to "prove that it has not sold out to US." While we do not know what form such gesture might take, it is well to be prepared for it so that it can be seen in proper perspective as meeting an internal problem which Govt has permitted to arise because of its reluctance to permit overt discussion of political 185485.

CONFIDENTIAL OFFICIAL-INFORMAL

Dear Jack:

I'm sorry to be so tardy with the supporting information about the Vienna Convention which you asked for so long ago, and only hope it is not too late to be of possible help in the situation described in Embtel 398.

The Convention itself entered into force on April 24, 1964, when the required 22 countries ratified it. As of now, 33 countries have ratified, with one more (Venezuela) very close to ratification. We ourselves are not doing so well: the bill was introduced into the Senate on May 14, 1963, and there is no prognosis of any kind as to when it might be enacted. As to application, there is no reason to believe that it is not being applied, at least as regards minimum standards, in all of the 33 countries which have ratified. In exoneration of our own position, it might be pointed out that our practice has always been more liberal than the minimum standards set forth in the Convention, so our liesurely legislative handling is not a reflection of any backwardness in meeting reasonable standards for treatment of diplomats.

The agreement covering our military advisers in India has not yet been signed; when it is, I shall see that you get a copy, even if this comes after Majlis ratification, so that the Iranians can compare notes.

Thank you for the information about the J.A. Jones problem; we will hold on to it in case there is a further inquiry from Senator Ervin.

I am also taking up your suggestion about the Afghan SAM's and hope we will be able to follow through on it in some fashion.

Meanwhile,

John A. Armitage, Esquire Special Assistant to the Ambassador for MSP, American Embassy, TERRAN.

CHAPTER II

Prime Minister: I am pleased these speeches were made by Their Excellencies Sartip-pur. Saden Ahmadi and Fakhr-Tabatabai resulting in my explanations here. if convincing, of course the bill introduced to Mailis will be approved, and if my explanations mere not convincing, and, the government will carry out the Majlis's decision. The matter which was pointed out to for disputing this bill; of course it is not my task but the Majlis itself; and His Excellency the Speaker of Majlis has paid his consideration to necessary points. However, on in due time this subject that the military advisors/be officially noticed whether or not their services continue the government requested the Majlis, before H.E. the Speaker of Majlis went away on the trip, to approve this, and Mr. Speaker told me; unfortunately, the Speaker left on Thursday; and I was prepared to see you gentlemen, but since Tuesday coincided some ceremonies it became impossible; and I said that would be all right since you would give necessary orders after your departure; and I didn't deduce that he might have recommended the necessity of approval of other committees for granting diplomatic rights to a number who are at the service of the Iranian Government. I didn't deduce this from his talks. May be I, as H.E. Sadeq Ahmadi, made this mistake. Regarding the speech made by H.E. Sartip-pur, I don't suppose anybody, amongst those supporting the Constitution, might allow himself to even think against the Constitutional Law er to defend a thing against the Constitutional Law (Bravo: said deputies). As a matter of x fact, the Constitution has protected and will protect foundation of countries; and this Majlis is the one which is safequarding the Constitution; and if it was not observed during the interregnum this Majlis will has made 4 and will make a good of it. Indeed, the phylosophy and spirit of the Constitutional iaw is fore the welfare of the nation; that the correct method of the Shahf and the people's revolution is the best way for enforcing the revolution that has appeared in the country, i.e. the best respect to the Constitutioanl Law. On this which is being disputed today it is only granting diplomatic immunity privilage governing a part of regulations of Vienna Convention which has just been approved end is necessary to enforce; this privilage is given to a small number of those the are needed by us for technical affairs at the service of the government, who are not forced to accept and extend the government's service if they are not Alike to this privilage given these privilages. /There have been numerous cases anatoganchickoganicilagean which were approved by Majlis of Iran (Safipur: Please indicate the similars). Alike to this: All international institutions, attaches of the United Nations, experts of W.H.O.XI and F.A.O. and experts of the American Operations in Iran its have enjoyed these privilages, and/respective law was passed by Majlis and this was not contrary to the Constitutional Law of Iran and their Constitutional Laws.

This is the privilage that the government and Majlis that consider them necessary. include them with their own country's diplomatic cadre, and this is at the disposal of the government and the Majlis: if they didn't want they will say we neednot these persons: but regarding the American military advisors with the Iranian army: in I think the Iranian army has had this honor is safeguarding the rights and borders of Iran after the World War II under the leadership of Shahanahah (Corrects said deputies); and the military aids which war were usual after the World War II and have been done to our country in a minisum way and the aids of our friendly American government it must be said that it has been respected by Iran after the World War I and cause no misunderstanding, associationizations with a statistic and the aspect of technical axpast expert maximizationizity at the service of the Iranian army would not create this misunderstanding specially that the method of the foreign aids have been changed and the agreements for the foreign aids which were made in the year 1322 have been changed. Today we must secure our requirements by ourselves: as the modern and mechnized means of the world of today and the aids which have been given to us and the foundation and means we have today must be together with speciality and technique of those countries which make them. We thatis need a small group of mounts experts minnary necessary for technical instructions in the diciplinary force of the country; and this group according to paragraph agreed on by Vienna International Convention and similar to Technical Missions of the United Nations, other agreements an alike to Point Four agreement an which was said are not at all contrary to the Constitutional Law but is a diplomatic immnity privilage given to a small group of technical experts under the employe Eng. Behbudi of the Iranian government; particularly I wanted/im pay attention to this fact that these meanum individuals are at the service of the Iranian government and are commissioned by the Iranian government; the agreement is good for one year and subject to renewal or cancellation at the end of every year. Therefore, an technical long as it is necessary that the mini/individuals be at the service of the army they will enjoy the privilages requested by them, approved by the government of the time and also/confirmed by the present government (a deputy said; because they at the service of the government of Iran they must minister responsible to the governmenty too), they are responsible to the government of Iran, whereas at the time one needs foreign aid the international relations are governing the interests of the two governments; and mu this is the agreement which you just approved (a deputy: What benefit these advisors are giving to the Iranian nation?): mul I will say that: The effective aids given to Iran and other countries of the world after the World War II, rescue of the world from a full collapse are not permitted to be neglected by you and I. It is for the attention of H.E.

Rembod and H.E. Behbudi that when the method of military aid was changed the then government, i.e. the previous government was requested this; the Majlis was not started then; the then government, I always have great respect for it and its jumn honorable head/ who created Mardon Party which is in turn respected by us, accepted this to give these privilages to these advisors, and a Note was prepared upon his instruction that this agreement would be approved by both Houses after open of both Mart Houses and approval of Vienna Convention altke other Decrees which were issued during the course of interregnum. Therefore, this the present government today is defending it/because it respects the decision made by the previous government and because it deems it fully necessary. I want you kindly pay attention to this fact that this is a practicable agreement and is not contrary at all with the Constitutional Law; and Notes were exchanged by the then head of government who had oreated the honorable Mardom Party; and this Note is respected and confirmed by this government appointed and relied upon Iran-e-Ncvin Party; and it in no way is contrary to the Constitutional Law; and these individuals are at the service of the Iranian government; and similar privilages have been given to other departments and technical staff. I, therefore, want to ask Mr. Mir-fendereski, the honorable Undersecretary of Foreign Minister, to bring to the notice of the honorable deputies the notes which have been prepared and similar to this ./.

agreement which are makent carried out in other countries with joint cooperation observed of the American government and have manniharows such privilages considering the Vienna International Convention. (page 41 of the Official Gazette - Majless discussions)

THE PRIME MINISTER: After having given such a detailed explanation regarding the matter thought there would be no need of going into further details but as every remark has an answer and most probably those make such remarks, it is their patriotism which urges th to say what they say and as in most cases they are not fully aware of every detail, it is therefore required that the government give its reply to those questions lest there may arise some misunderstanding. I have already said that the Governments of Iran and America had to make a revision in their agreements every year: and, as the US aid syste to foreign countries has already undergone some changes and it would not be possible to stop the country and the Army from submitting their technical decmands, the former gover ment informed the American Embassy by a note of its consent and the American Embassy replied in a note, on behalf of the American Government, of its approval. I have been given a written reply as to when the said notes were exchanged. They were exchanged some time in the month of Mehr, last year, i.e. six months before my government took ow the office was loan say that the exchange of notes was very timely and it was necessary do so and what has been done was quite right. As I said to approach the problem out of more emotions is not at all correct or reasonable. (True) Because, as Mr. Zehtab Fard has already said. it is not surprising to hear people in the bazaar or/street corners who are used to talking politics without any real information say such things but at a place important as this is such matters must be interpreted and discussed with a differ attitude; the country's interests must be approached from a different angle and there s be the courage and power to take some positive and real steps for the fulfillment of th country's affairs otherwise nothing positive will be done for the country. We will be forced to please everybody some of whom might have some special incentive. Among those who are not fully aware of the international problems and their technicalities, unfortu where will be some who will be vulnerable to influence. When I submit a bill to the Ma I submit it with all respectability as I think whatever is submitted to the Majless is bound to be submitted with respect (swell) and this bill which was submitted today by government was with the belief that our Army is in need of technical aid and these are the most essential and primitive needs that any country in the world which is in the same situation as we are needs. Such a bill has to be defended by my government even though it was not submitted by me at the beginning. It is better to have the misunderstandings about the bill cleared here at the Majleas. It was said that I have a tenant I would like to say that I have only one house where I live and I have no tenant at my house. If a relative of mine or someone else has that cannot be a problem to be mention here nor one should permit himself to announce here that a foreigner can do a lot with the fate of the country. Such matters should not be disregarded. I would rather say nothing owry than this but what I said, brief as it could be, will suffice to reply all your smarks. One must talk truth and should be honest. This bill increasing affords essolutely no ground for such remarks. If you have heard someone may something out of wais place, you can be sure that that is not the opinion of the public (true). The opinion of the public is the one which me is/strengthened by the positive work of this government under the leadership of the Shahanshah and the honest services of this Majlees. It is such remarks that misguide our people and deviate them from the right path, and those the are guided by their maintainships maliananay and the betray this country, whether from the inside or outside the country, make use of such remarks. (Javid - that is not true). to should not allow, with our unity, cooperation and alliance, the infiltration of such Meas, (true) and that at such a time and during the administration of such a government. Sever should the country's prestige and independance be undermined. Oursis not a dictatorial government nor the country is without a head. It is about to think that others walize our problems better than we do nor they know more about the matter than we do. More is no such thing. It is the country's Shahanshah, the nation's House and the nation's trustworthy and honest government who know it better. If we appreach these problems evertaken by our emotions or pass judgement on the matters on the basis of gossips we will get nowhere. The decisiveness that I mentioned here which is so essential for the falfillment of positive work for the country me is what this government strives for. It is the government which must lead the nation on the path to progress and happiness. You cannot rebuild this country with deceitful and negative words. I do not want to an ه.

Lato further detail but the little that I said is an answer to what some said for hours. Anabod: Nr. Speaker, you should not allow him speak like that. (unrest among the deputies). Javid: You better speak more politely (Deputy Speaker rings the bell).

The Prime Minister! I speak politely. (Javid - speak politely). I mean those who talk emseless outside the Majless, who think that way. Your Excellency, Mr. Rambed, if nothing else, at least politeness and decency are part of my character, (Swell) and I know what to cay. You can be sure that I stay within the limits and it is not for no reason that I hand this government. (True, swell). I only ask the honorable representatives to approach the problem realistically and with all the explanations given by the government, a government which was chosen by you and which is commissioned by the Shahanahah and enjoys your full support and we all walk the same way and render the same services. I have said it more than often that the government and the Majless are in no way divided from enother (True) and there is nothing that we do which is not supported by these who trust us and have ballef in us. This unity and cooperation of the Majless and the Government is the biggest hence we have had. We all want to think and sait in the same manner. I do not think that patriotian can be the memopoly of a single person (Javid: It is your memopoly alone) or be the property of one person. We never may so and so is more patriot than such and such a person. Consistent to what I suid, I would eak Mr. Mix Fendereski to read the identical parts of the note commanyed between the Governments of Iran and America a year age as there was no Majleon at that time and the reading of the parts mentioned was postponed until the approval by the Majless. I an sure there will be enough in there to reply some of the reading which will serve to further the information of the honorable representatives. (-well, swell).

HIR FEDERALL: (Under-Secretary to the Foreign Office) - The American Embassy in its note No. 423 dated 19th March, 1962 (Esfand - 1340), while approving the extension of the services of the American Military Advisors in Iran for another year, requested, for the purpose of clearing the status of the staffs of these missions and/facilitating the discharge of duties, that the members of these staffs be permitted frontilical these of the privileges and immunities foreseen in the International Treaty/of Vienna in the case of administrative/employees and signed in the year 1961.

In this respect lengthy correspondence was exchanged between the Iranian authorities and the American Embasay. Consequently the Council of MINISTERS at its meeting of 15th Mehr, 1342 approved that after ratification of the Vienna Agreement by the two Houses of the Parliament, the chief and the members of the American military missions in Iran be allowed to avail themselves of the privileges provided in the said Agreement for administrative and technical staffs.

The respective bill was submitted to the Senate on 25th of Day, 1342 and was approve on 3rd Mordad, 1343 and was sent to the Majlees for approval after the summer vacations.

According to the Single Article approved by the Senate and which is now submitted to the Majless for approval, the government is authorized to extend to the chief and members of the US military advisory missions in Iran, who according to agreements signed are in the employ of the Iranian Government, the immunities and examptions provided to administrative and technical employees as defined under paragraph F of Article One of the Vienna Article

Types of Immunities - Immunities and exceptions extended to administrative and minical staff under Article 29 in 35 of the Vienna Agreement. (Provisions of the said Micles are attached hereto).

It is interesting to note that according to Paragraph 2 of Article 27 of the Vienne resent, the immunities to be extended by the accepting government in matters relevant eivilities and administrative affairs do not include affairs other than administrative technical duties assigned to them. Therefore, the immunities extended to such personnel like those fully extended to diplomatic personnel, shall be limited.

With due regard to this way to within actor, it is understood that in case those lling under this Article is antipol diviling to chinis prove while beyond their inistrative optics, by arranding their richts, they shall become like to judgement wood by the sumptant millibritises of the arranging country.

1) American military advisory missions in Iran and their personnel are sent to Iran of the year 1322 on the explicit request of the Iranian Government for the purpose of Millment of duties as requested by the Iranian Government. (Payendeh: What is all the ry about? Read slowly). I think of you. (Payendeh: Think of those who are old). a are old but with a young spirit.

2) American military advisory groups are carry out duties in 38 countries as requested those countries and in all those countries they avail themselves of the immunities Nended to diplomatic staffs according to their respective agreements. The said agreements as sometimes bilateral like the Greece-America agreement of 1946 and the agreement signed Aveen America and Pakistan in 1959 and sometimes they are multilateral like the Atilateral treaty of North Atlantic or the SEATO.

Thus you see in every country where there are American attribute military employees, ther members of advisory missions or combat staff, their rights are protected by bilateral mements known as Status of Force Agreement or by multilateral agreements (North Atlantid waty or SEATO).

Countries which accept American military personnel either advisory staff or combat aff give up their penal jurisdictions in their case on the basis of agreements which the concluded in that connection. But as already stated and as it is mentioned under which 37 of the Vienna Agreement this deprint of functions in penal matters does the impair the competence of the authorities of the host country on deprine it from the impair the competence of the authorities, payment of compensations, payments losses in cases where such following are committed beyond the light of their duties.

This fundamental and essential point was taken into consideration in the discussions which were concluded between the Foreign Office and the U.S. Embassy. The American authority have officially and explicitly stated that in the case of application of the provisions of the Vienna Agreement, the American military personnel and staff shall be subject to prosecution according to the Iranian law if may the rights of an Iranian are denied to h

Something which is worthwhile to note is that in the agreements signed bilaterally between America and other governments it is stated that it will be up to the American military authorities in the first place to judge whether somebody's rights have been tresspassed and whether a case is open to prosecution because it is took place within the limits of the offender's duties or beyond such limits, whereas although the immuniti as stated in the Vienna Agreement are granted to administrative and technical personnel that right of verification is reserved to the Imperial Iranian authorities. TABATABAI: I am against it.

DEPUTY SPEAKER Mr. Gharachorloo are you in favor?

GHARACHORLOO: I have no intention to say anything in defence of the bill since His Exceptency the Prome Minister and some of my colleagues have already said a lot about the bill. I am only very sorry and in fact may be all the deputies and every member of our nation is who is patriotic should be sorry about is that some remarks are made here which should not be made. This is a government appointed by the Shahanshah and is approved by the Majless and is supported by the majority of the deputies; a bill is drawn up by this government which is submitted to the Majless (Eng. Right: It was the former government which drew up the bill). The former government drew up the bill but the present government has submitted it to the Majless. To say that the present government has submitted a bill to the Majless which is against the Constitutional Law of Iran is not right (True) (Eng. Moini Zend: Won't do it). This bill is in the first place connected to the Imperial Iranian Army, We all know that the Imperial Iranian Army has in the past render very valuable services to the country under the leadership of His Imperial Majesty the Shah (That is right). This bill is sanctioned by the Minister of War, a Minister who discharges his duties under the direct supervision of His Imperial Majesty the Shah. (^That is right). Therefore, to say that this bill is an encroachment to our Constitution Law is not right because the person standing above all is the Shahanshah who is well aware of the things and enforces the country's laws (That is true). You can be sure that should this present government uninityaybitctoxtherEndtessy which is supported by the majority of the Majless deputies and mhickcie members of the Iran-e-Novin Party submite to the Majless a bill which is contrary to the Constitutional Law we will rise wainsttime government in the first place (Rowhani: Will never submit such a bill). ime said here that they would raise the curtains. I want to say that in our country there a no curtain to be raised (That is right). The Sixth of Bahman Revolution under the teadership of the Shahanshah in broke all the barriers and tore down all the curtains. Thus there is no more curtain in our country. Those who say that they will pull back the curtains they better do so. We shall then see what is behind the curtains. Our country has always been/avant garde of civilization.and We have a history of 2500 years of civiliation. If in the past centuries some attacked us they eventually fell a prey to our Heas and civilization and vanished. We have never been a colony and shall never be one (That is right). (Dr. Za'franloo: We even don't think about such a thing). Our relations with foreign powers is based on mutual respect and is so clear that nobody should have my doubts about it. His Imperial Majesty in his inaugural speech at the Senate said. The faise of our country within our country is determined by ourselves*(That is right) hat is what the Shah said and when the Shah says that we are the masters of our destiny It is a grave mistake to say that this bill which is submitted to the Majless deprives us our rights. In fact we should have no doubts and should say nothing of the sort. As said this as a bill submitted by the government to the Majless/ In the same way that colomatic officials are benefiting from some immunities, in this bill the same immunities requested for military officials who are in the employ of the Iranian Government. wordingcionemer The Iranian Government can either employ them or terminate their services. the of the deputies: It is limited). (Sadegh Ahmadi: What are its lamits?). His Excellency Under-Secretary read all the texts and correspondence which have been exchanged in at connection. Those of my colleagues who are in the Ira -- Novin Party and who tended the numerous meetings at which this bill was discurred have already expressed wir pro and con ideas, although there was no con, and there were some who had some relanations to give. The matter was discussed at the Party meetings sufficiently and it » hoped that you will give your approval and with the positive vote that the majority Il give it is hoped that this bill will be approved and the movernment will be given support in the services that it renders to the country and the nation. We all hope that is government will do nothing derogatory to the country. (Ewell).

UTT SPEAKER: Some proposals are received from a number of the deputies which will be ad. The following was read:

In view of the fact that the meeting has lasted so long, it is requested that the mainder of the discussions be postponed to Thursday. Mostafavi, Nayeri, Tabatabai, wid, Dr. Baghai Yazdi, Habibi, Rambod, Payendeh, Rejai and several others.

unrest and uncasiness are inevitable. There is a decree and some immunities. I should say that those immunities are ismited. They are limited in financial matters and unli in penal matters. These are mentioned under Article 2. I am not partial. I have been a student under the Under-Secretary of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. (The Under-Secretary, you are my professor). These immunities are extended currently. Some said t we better let the matter go until tomorrow: some said for the day after tomorrow. I wonder what is all the hurry about. Some say that we better continue with our discussi All right, I will stay and shall not guit this place without your permission. Fortunate I have not missed any of the Majless meetings. I do not know what will be my vote. I know that a decision will be made. The Prime Minister is here and we see him after i a long time. However, pro or con it was a warm discussion. All what everyone said was said out of patrictism. Of course everyone had his point. It is said that a shield wa once put on a roadside. That shield was red on one side and white on the other. Those passing some would see the red side and some the white side, but it was the shield whi the matter to the next meeting and some say that we better finish it up at this meetin During my life time I have seen many a good people in this Majless that I could not find it is a foreign bill it cannot be termed as one-urgency clause bill. As this is a anywhere else in the world. During the 22 years that I have been staying outside the gates of this Majless and Mr. Khosrowani who was a student in the elementary grades du needed. I would ask everybody show his good will. Why should we hurry in such a matter commit no sin. (Swell). It is not one of those ordinary bills exempting the tractor duties of so and so. We c have another meeting. It is natural that when we realize something fully we can say an KHAJENOORI: Mr. Sartip-poor, you said things which I know you uttered out of mean yes or no. I may not approve all what Mr. Zehtab said but I also cannot say no word on the sincers feelings and your personality and what you said makes put me in somewhat ment brings its bills to this place, we have our right to talk about those bills. There will tell you why. Because whatever that was needed and whatever that was asked was is no one-man chess play. There are two people involved in it. I therefore ask that there are and explained here. Now, what we should say again will only be repeating what meeting wind up now. I cannot stand so much starvation as I have starved enough during the early stage of my life. An hour or two will have no effect on this bill which is debated by a Majless which is ardently supporting the Revolution. That is all I would like to say.

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Let us take vote on this proposal. Those who are in favour (Khajenoori We cannot discuss the matter on Thugeday. That is for elections). We will read the proposal again.

It is suggested that the Majless adjourn today and take over the matter on next mursday. Mostafavi, Nayeri, Tabatabai, Javid, Dr. Baghai Yazdi, Hosseini. Rambod, Payendeh. jai and several others)

PUTY SPEAKER: Those in favor would please stand up. (Just a few stood up) Move not wproved.

There is another proposal: Read as follows: bnorable Speaker of the Mailess:

Inasmuch as the matter has been fully discussed, I propose that we vote for afficiency of discussions. Khajenoori.

EVITY SPEAKER: Mr. Sartipper, you seem to be against this proposal, please. AFTIPAPOOR: I should only get involved in this matter as one vote and one person. I can why give my vote when I am well aware of the matter. I said that this bill is against wr Constitutional Law. Some objected to what I said. I had my reason why the bill is minst our Constituional Law but those who objected had no reason for what they said. was there. How can one say that he is right and the other wrong. Some say that we level was then said that the bill be passed over to the War Committee and Justice Committee. was objected that aime this/an entirely internal bill. Therefore it is a foreign bill. wic bill our votes therefore will have no effect if it is basic. However, it is the tion which must judge about it; it is the representatives of the House who should pass those years is now a minister. I just do not know what he thinks about the urgency of magment. Do not impose your will. The majority can be cruel in its judgement. This nation bill. Is the attitude of the government the attitude of the majority? Is the camel at the stind of the principles or not? If there is a principle, then you must respect it. If there gate and a decision must be made in all haste? I have one vote and that I will give where whetever is ratified, it is you who do it. Let God and the nations know that praise. This is where the matters have to be discussed. In the same way that the Government situation. I would never expect to hear such a complaint from you. (Sartip-poor:why?) already been said. I do not question your good will as well as the good will of other colleagues who talked about the matter. I admire you and that is not a compliment. t as you said that if we make a derivation decision we will be sharing interestar with mething sinful, I would like to tell you that even in that case I shall not feel myself as meone with guilty manuface conscience. I would like taxks you to realize that our entry, with the pacts that it has and with its present international status particularly with her position in the Middle East is a country politically independent in every way. It is the master of her destiny. If we are in need to have a few instructors in our Army in order to train our soldiers with the new equipment and weapons and if it comes the point that we can have those instructors provided that we grant them some immunitie that cannot be interpreted as something undermining our independence (That is right). Unfortunately. I am forced to give some answers to what he said as he said things which are irrelevant and my replies cannot be anything different. We have some here today wh are instructors and teachers and have no power in our Army. Some are afraid that these will abuse their powers. It is only a seargent who instructs our soldiers how to handle a Bazuka weapon; it is only a pilot who teaches how to fly a jet plane; it is only an officer who trains our soldiers some tactics as how to handle new weapons. He gives instructions as how to handle such weapons and what effects they can have in war tactic These are all instructors and advisors. They have no power to command. Mr. Hoseini who an army colonel knows what I say. It is only those who are staff officers who can comm If it is only an officer who teaches and trains that does not mean that he can command. Why should the representatives be so much worried about the matter. This bill has been studied very carefully. It was discussed now and as it will only be a waste of time. I made such a proposal. It is of course up to the Majless (Some deputies: let us take PAYENDEH: I am against it:

PUTY SPEAKER: Mr. Khajenoori, please.

DEPUTI SPEAKER: As to the sufficiency of the discussions we already had one for and one against. We therefore take wote. Those who would wote that we have discussed the matter sufficiently would please stand up. (The majority stood up). Now we will take wote on the Single Article. Those in favor, would please stand up. (Majority stood up). Approved. The Single Article is put to debate. Mr. Tabatabai, you have something to say please.

TARATARAI: I have nothing to say.

豪

DEFUTY SPEAKER: My vote which is one in 188 votes will be given in time. Some words PAJE VDEW were uttered here, such as, limited, unlimited, competence, efc. which I would like to explain and would also ask the Under-Secretary to give some more explanations. Somethin was said here but contrary to all that was said the matter is still ambiguous. May be I mannet not able to realize the matters very quickly. I hope some who are smart did unde stand everything and will therefore help me understand as well. His Excellency, the Under-Secretary of Foreign Office said that those immunities are limited. Immunities in civil matters are limited but in penal matters are unlimited. That does not put an to the matter, but there is something which I ask you to pay attention to. As you know effirmative vote it will then mean that we do not give a vote of confidence to our governsent. (A number of the representatives: We will give our vote).(Gharachorloo: Who said so? (e won*t.)

EPUTY SPEAKER: Is there anything you would like to add, Mr. Prime Minister? RIME MINISTER: I should have given some more explanation. The letter written to the merican Embassy argumer by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in the month of Mehr, a year ago, and that letter will be the basy of what we will do in the future (one of the moresentatives: Was it during your administration?) It is only six months I am in the office. I was not heading the government at that time. In that letter it is stated and membras that the chief of the military advisory missions in Iran will benefit from the immunities and privileges provided for administrative employees and even the provisions of paragraphs •• and so to the end will benefit. Therefore there is a lot to that. When in that letter the Vienna Convention is mentioned it means that that is agreed with. Therefore the atter will in no way be applicable to servants, maids, etc. Some of such stuff might have wen mentioned in the Vienna Agreement but in the letter written to the Embassy by the inistry of Foreign Affairs it is only stated the chief and members of the missions. As to what Mr. Payendeh said, the American authorities have officially and explicitly entirest announced that in case that the Vienna Agreement be made applicable in the use of American advisors. magcabase if the civil rights of an Iranian be abused by my of those Americans the case will be prosecutable according to the Iranian law at ranian courts. Therefore, the immunities granted will in no way affect the routine ife of those benefiting. If some one has some claim and his rights are ignored and it which is happending during the time that is something/mithiuribu administrative and military manual duties are discharged, the ffender will be prosecuted. In penal matters they will also be subjected to punitive easures but as that might create some complications, it is the provisions of bilateral and multilateral pacts which will be applicable. (Sadegh Ahmadi: What about in the case of car accidents, such as the one which happened several days ago where an American margent killed three people in that accident?). As said there are some bilateral and altilateral laws and if no such cases were to take place there would never have been the need for such pacts. As it was mentioned, we have now some equipment, such as adar network, supersonic jet planes and we have a lot more demand for other things. a we all know all these astonishing achievements in every free country now are all that the American industry has given. Of course there are some pacts which are binding. appose it was the Frenck government whichhad given these to Iran such an agreement ed pact would have been signed with the French government. Of course there must be some reasonable limits to them. These limits are stipulated in the respective pacts and if after agreement such pacts are to be torn then they cannot be called pacts. (Sadegh Am If a crime is committed by a seargent then what?) As you mention such a case I should a that the American military officers who serve in the army are members of military missi It is quite possible that an expert of electronics or radar is in civilian clothesphe is not a military man then. In such a service there is discrimination as this one is an offscer and the other is a civilian. They are all in the employ of the Army and mak the government will apply the regulations in their case all alike. One can be an army colonel and another an aermantical expert or a radar network expert. In the American Army itself there are many such civilian experts and some of such people serve our army I mean the technical staff or in other words the experts.

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Is there anyone against the proposal made by Mr. Rambod? Mr. Khajenoon KHAJENOORI: I want to say that what Mr. Rambod says is out of his good will. However, want to remind you of something ime and that is that these people are in the service of the Iranian Government and our government can terminate their services in case that so shortcomings are noticed and can even expel them from the country. Therefore, there is no need to limit their stay to one year or two years. EX Their CHERY to our country. Should the Minister of War find that one is trespassing his limits and violates the re tions he will terminate his services right away, and will deport him. (Rambod: I will agree if you delete that one year).

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Mr. Fakhr Tabatabai, you are for the bill, please.

PARTE TABATABAI: I agree with the proposal made by Mr. Rambod. Of course it is always good to have a matter discussed and debated in full. I am now clear about the bill with the explanations given here by the Prime Minister and others. Although by submittal of bill it is not the intention of the government to extend privileges to every incompeter member of the advisory missions, I can see that those who are competent, who are expert in technological matters and are military officers can avail themselves of the privile The ball as is submitted after approval will be singed into law but we will still have discuss on the matters as exchanged by by the government but if the matter be summarise a little bit there will be no more need of such further discussions. In that manner the government will have achieved its objective and the Majless will also be confinced. We never think about things which are not weal; we take matters into consideration as farthey are not detrimental. That is the reason thy I asked to have the matter studied by the Justice Committee and if it had been done so, there would be manner no such discuss here. Then some amendments would be made and the bill would be presented in a better s

In that way it would better incomrporate the views of the government and those of the in that way it would better incomrporate the views of the government and those of the incomress. For the same reason that a foreign diplomat has the right to benefit of g wannities, a high-ranking advisor who is useful the to our country should benefit from wach privileges. This bill as it is now can sometimes give cause to some troubles. Mr. Subod's proposal is one which modifies the matter and I think if my colleagues agree with it, the matter can be considered as something settled where the views of the evernment as well as the views of my colleages are coordinated.

BUTY SPEAKER: Mr. Prime Minister, please.

RIME MINISTER: I was going to ask Mr. Rambod to take back his proposal as inter all the marcements are concluded for a period of one year (Rambod: We fully trust you and the ministry of War). I request that no changes be made in this Article. Your views are already memory of here. (Rambod: I would request that when the Majless gives you its vote you accept w).

UTY SPEAKER: Mr. Rambod, do you take your proposal back?

WEDD: I do so, but it is understood that the agreements are for one year.

WHBOD: We cannot force the government if it does want it.

WUTY SPEAKER: We should presume that you did take your proposal back. There is another mposal made by Dr. Mobin.

wads as follows):

I propose that the clause "Except immunities stated under Article 32 of the Vienna greement" be added after the word "immunities".

MANE MINISTER: That is not right at all because that is not a law it is just a treaty.

N. MOBIN: It is confirmed by the Government that these advisors ine employees of the veriment of Iran. How can we employ foreigners, especially military personnel without my law in that respect? You are not allowed to employ an advisor without any agreement. Not is why I said that these are in your service according to an agreement. You should not refer to the law. You should not resort to such excuses. You should not employ reign advisors according to an agreement. If you abolish a law and replace it by an areement that would be contradictory. You have under Article 47 of the Vienna Agreement that the host country in implementation of the regulations of the said agreement shall not are any discrimination among the countries. If you are not able to make any discrimination the viewpoint of the enforcement of Articles 27 to 35 and as far as immunities restated under Articles 27 to 35 you are not allowed to discriminate in the provisions of Articles 27 to 35. Should the government be allowed to take such steps on the basi of agreements and treaties, I think, it will be to the disadvantage of the government itself. I was going to say something else. Please pay attention to this. The advisors who will be allowed to benefit of the exemptions provided for administrative and techn personnel as stated under Articles 29 to 35, in the agreements that we have ratified there is no Article 32. Therefore how can you make a decision about something which do not exist?

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Mr. Prime Minister, please.

PRIME MINISTER: I think Mr. Mobin is in some misunderstanding. This is not employment all. It is not an employment matter; it is a military agreement which was passed by 1 Majless in the year 1322. That means that these are some people who come to serve in the army according to agreements which are consistent with that law which was passed 1 1322. In my opinion that is not employment. Therefore, what you say in that connection is not relevant at all.

DR. NOBIN: Well, if that is the case, why don't you revise the Single Article. In that article it is an clearly said that in the employment of the Iranian Government. PRIME MINISTER: Please, it is only the immunities that this law allow. If that law d not permit so they shall not be in employ and that Article is only with regard to immunities.

DR. MOBIN:n You then agree that we do not have such an agreement; we have a law regard the employment of military advisors, therefore these must be employed according to tha law . I made a proposal and my proposal is quite right. I am not going to take back wh I proposed. We cannot permit the ^Government to employ advisors on the basis of agreement DEPUTY SPEAKER: We are going to take wote on what Dr. Mobin proposes.

ROHANI: I think there is no contradiction because His Excellency the Prime Minister a that this inclumnt agreement is based on a law which we have and that explanations will be mentioned in the proceedings of the meeting (Dr. Mobin: Why shouldn't we revise it? DEFUTY SPEAKER: Areyou satisfied or we should take vote? (Dr. Mobin: let us take vote) (We therefore will read the proposal once more) (Reads as followed; did before).

DEFUTY SPEAKER: We take a vote on what Dr. Mobin proposed. Those who are for it will please stand up (a few stood up) - not approved.

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Mr. Payendeh's proposal is read. (Reads as follows:)

(I propose that under the Single Article it be added that these decrees and exemption concern only to their persons) Payendeh.

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Give some explanations, please.

APOLGHASSEM PAYENDEM: I want to draw yours attention to what Dr. Mehin said about Article 12. In practice there will be some difficulties as this Agreement has no Article 32. One of the representatives: It is a printing error) That is not sufficient for our purpose. You see, under Paragraph/of Article 31 it says administrative employee's relatives, pay attention, please, here it says the relatives of the military advisors will benefit from immunities as stated under paragraph F. That means that should the court say something against this point tomorrow, nobody will be able to say that it is conflicting and what is said under paragraph 2 of Article 31 will be taken as binding. I think that is not right. Of course it is not a very important matter; it is just a mistake in interpretation of the word but I think such an interpretation may not be sufficient. In order to avoid such a problem I request that a modification be made as it was proposed (Khajehncori: Iou can be sure that the consequences are taken into consideration).

EPUTY SPEAKER: You still insist on your proposal?

(AVENDEM: You would allow me to sit, won't you? With due observance of what the Prime Minister said to the effect that these exemptions and immunities are applicable to the silitary advisors themselves and not their relatives, I will take my proposal back. PEPUTY SPEAKER: There is another proposal made by Mr. Blakhanloo, which will be read. reads as follows:)

In order to do away with every possible misunderstanding and rather clarify the matter and establish good will invite of the Houses of the Farliament in the establishment of good relations between the Imperial invation country of Iran and the United States Government, and with due consideration of the fact that a number of Iranian high-ranking/physicians and engineers are in the employe of America and their services to America is no less than the services rendered to the Iranian Army by the technical staff of American Army advisors, it is proposed that the Iranians in the service of the American Government mutually benefit of this law and its provisions in America. Balakhanloo.

EPUTY SPEAKER: Mr. Balakhanloo.

MLAKHANLOO: As it some mention was made here of the public opinion and that public opinion has brought us to this place, we therefore cannot disregard that public opinion or say that they do not realize the matter or they pay no attention to such matters. The public realizes the matters very well and they pay good attention to the developments and it is for that reason that this Majless of 21st has correctioners been termed as a Majless of Revolution. You can see that those who are here are from all walks of fife; there are doctors, tradesmen, engineers, workers. They are all here in order to work in the advantage of the country. Now, if we grant such immunities because so and should have been dropped by mistake.

RAMBOD: With your permission. I would like to read the bill submitted by the Government. "With due regard to Bill No. 2291/18 dated 25/11/1342 of the government and its attachments which were submitted to the Senate on 21/11/42. the Government is authorized to ex to the Chief and members of the U.S.military advisory missions in the se employ of the Iranian Governments, according to the respective agreements, the immunities and exemption stated under Paragraph F of Article One of the Vienna Agreement applicable in the case of administrative employees." Under Paragraph F are administrative employees and technical who according to Article 37 are to benefit from immunities stated in Articles 29 to 35. Provisions of Articles 29 to 35 means 29. 30. 31. 32 and so on. Now, you of course pay attention to what you are voting.

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Mr. Prime Minister.

there is no reference to it whatsoever

P.M.: If sometimes in printing something an error takes place or a word is missing it has absolutely nothing to do with this Single Article. I mean the Single Article. Harray It says that with due regard to so and so bill and its attachments which was submitted to the Senate on 25/11/42, the Government is authorized to extend privix the provisions of the Vienna Agreement approved on 18th April to the Chief and members of the military advisory missions. This has nothing to do whatsoever with what you say. That is an entir different matter. If some printing error has occurred, the Majless knows it and will correct it.

RAMBOD: If you were a house representative, would you vote for this bill?

PRIME MINISTER: I don't have less interest in the Majless nor I consider myself apart fr it.

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Mr. Rambod, please note that this was received from the Senate in this shape as it is.

RAMBOD: But where is its Article 32?

DEPUTY SPEAKER: An error has apparently occurred at the time of printing. Mr. Payendeh, please.

ABOLCHASSEN PAYENDEH: I have to apologize for having spoken more than I would during a whole month and the Majless has been patient to listen to me. Inshallah, I won't speak for a month. Your Excellency, Prime Minister, please pay attention. A chain is all tied; we see in the Vienna Agreement, in its Article 37 we read that the relatives of liplomatic official who make a part of his family, provided that they are not citizens of te host country, shall avail themselves of the immunities stated under Articles 29 to 35. ministrative and technical employees also avail themselves of the same immunities, that is, munities stated inder Article 29 to 35. Mr. Prime Minister, please note (Dr. Adl Tabatabai: address what you say to the Majless.) that this is like a chain all intervoyen. Amunities from Article 29 to 35, immunities under paragraph 2 of Article 37 are the same munities stated under articles 29 to 35. We grant them immunities, What immunities? swear in the name of Almighty the God that I have deep respect for the Majless in all but I say. This is not right. This does correspond to the reality. UTY SPEAKER: Mr. Prime Minister, please.

MME MINISTER: I asked His Excellency, Mr. Rambod, who had come. This has been sent by e Senate and it is concerning the Vienna International Convention. This is printed and PRIME MINISTER: I do not see you (sic) in this bill which is right now under debate, bed which and the entire World has accepted it and a large number of countries have mounced their alherence to it. Suppose that a word has been left out by mistake when RAMBOD: Don't say that lest the bill which was previously approved may be abrogated now. Conting it. We discuss the immunities in that Convention in its entirety and an error es not make any change in the principles of that matter. Whether we confirm it or not still wontt be affected. If we change a word of it, we do not affiliate ourselves to anymore and since the Majless has already voted in favor of its adherence to it. that ticle 32 is therefore considered as a part of it. If you change a principle of that evention you are not anymore a member of it. I think it would be a useless effort if EXTERT expected more than that. There is no doubt that the matter in its entirety agreeable to the deputies. In the bill which is now under debate it is that Convention ich is referred to. That Convention is confirmed and we have no right to make any changes as there is nothing here about the articles of the convention, thus you can see that have good reason to ask you to agree with me. (That is right).

UTY SPEAKER: Mr. Sartip-poor, please.

KTIP#POOR: To approve something which is unknown has no effect. (Representatives: Repeat please). To approve something which is unknown has no effect. Either the Chairman of Foreign Committee should come here and max tell us what is that Article 32 so that may know or the Reporter of the Committee should come here and tell us what that Article is. (One of the representatives: They don't know themselves) Our approval of the matter thout knowing what it is will not be worthwhile. I would suggest that we better do sething which is right./In a Convention an agreement among governments.gammatche. I have know what rights are given. Why should we stress that the matter be left unknown. at is right. very good).

DEPUTY SPEAKER: The Prime Minister has already given the necessary explanations that this is an international agreement and no changes can be made therein. (One of the representational We de did). However, the Prime Monister will give some more explanations.

PRIME MINISTER: Please note that the Single Article voted by the Majless is this: Single Article: The Vienna Agreement which was signed by the authorized representatives of the Imperial Iranian Government on 18th April, 1961 according to 29th Farvardin, 1340 in the city of Vienna and which is comprised of 53 Articles and two protocols, was approv and the Government is authorized to exchange the approved documents of partitizative diplomatic relations.

In fact it is the Bill in its entirety which is mentioned which was drawn up in five languages which are the official languages of the United National Organization, i.e English, Chinese, Spanish, French and Russian. Now stippose that in the translation of t Agreement an error took place and we had already approved it, would it be still valid? Our adherence to this international convention of Vienna is now under debate not its translation/which some error might have taken place. As a matter of fact the text of that Article is here, it is among the documents which the Ministry of Foreign Affairs has here It is read: give up extending immunities is in diplomatic representatives and persons who avail themselve

This giving up

2) Disapprexat/should always be explicit.

Sercinxosescubsrscaceoastcsssexiscinxolved

3) In case where a court case is pursued by a diplomatic representative or anyone who, according to Article 37, is benefiting from judicial imunities, his he cannot resort to judicial immunity with respect to any mutual case which is directly connected with the original case.

This has all the negative aspects which fortunately are confirming the views of the representatives.

4) To give up judicial immunity in the case of a givit penal court case or administrati case shall not be considered as giving up immunities with regard to measures taken in connection with verdicts issued by the courts. "There should be a different deviation for this issue".

This is the Article which is missing. Suppose a part of this is not translated correctly by the translator, that does not change the principle adopted by the government or the Majless in adhering to the Agreement. It is the Vienna Agreement in its original which matters. Nemertheless. I give this to you with the permission of the House Speaker that you may complete it.

MPUTY SPEAKER: Mr. Sadegh Ahmadi's proposal is being read:

reads as follows):

in the advisory missions I propose that those in the ranks of sergeants/be excepted from the provisions of this bill. Sadegh Ahmadi.

EPUTY SPEAKER: Mr. Sadegh Ahmadi, please.

ADEGH AHMADI: I would not like to speak at this time which is 3:30 p.m. and I wonder how Or. Khatibi has stayed so long. When the Budget Bill was being debated we were given a andwich at least. I had a headache when I came here. I wonder if this bill is not having my bad reaction. What sort of a bill this is that it should go through so much disorder. am really very sorry (That is right): I am sorry indeed, I just cannot understand why toes the Prime Minister insist that this bill has to be approved just in the way it is. Onn of the representatives: The minority group of the Majdess is not respected.) You would know it for certain that the common people of this country hold higher respect for the Majless than for the Senate. No such discussions took place there. They were then sorry that they approved such an important bill with all that hurry. The Majless on the contrary as continued its discussions until this hour and that means that those who are in the lajless are the real representatives of the people; they are more interested in the affairs. hat is something which is true and must be said here. The people disapprove what the enators have done. I was out for a few minutes for just a smoke. There I discussed the matter with a couple members of the Iran-e-Novin Party whom I respect very much. Although that member of the Iran-e-Novin Party is quite a well-informed man he does not know the number of people who fall under this bill. He said that it would be applicable in the case of 40 persons. I asked him whether he had made any study in the text of the bill. He said that he had not. This bill is applicable to all the personnel of the advisory missions. I to not say that their family members are included as the Prime Minister said that they re not but with due consideration of the text of the Single Article and the description iven about the technical staff. I can say that their families are included as well. Now want to base my reasoning on what the Prime Manister has said and say that the members f their families are not included. There are many on these advisory missions and most of them are sergeants. Now, it is all of these sergeants that the people complain. I agree ith what the Prime Minister said that these are a handful of experts who are all intructors. who are in civilian clothes but it is those who are in the ranks of sergeants of thom the people are fed up. They say that if they go out with their wives and an American sergeant happens to pinch one of their wives there will be no place for us to file our complaint and follow up the matter. That is how people get mad. You read in the papers yesterday that an American sergeant killed three people running over them his car. I had a similar case during my office in the Justice Department and you want to approve such a bill. How can you do it without a guilty conscience? (That is right). I am sorry to hear that my friend Mr. Gharachorloo, whom I admire, want Chis to be done so quickly. Why so quickly? The Prime Minister said that sometimes it/humanne inevitable. I realize that. I have a 22 mind flexible enough to know that it is quite possible that sometimes the circumstances make it necessary. But why cannot we make it limited. We can say that officers of the American advisory missions since those may besters commit such felonies less than their sergeants and in fact it is so because they are not seen driving cars very often; they get drunk less and daxians offend less. We have deep respect for them and admit that they are to be considered as in the service of their Embassy; that is all right but let us not extend the privileges to their sergeants. That is dangerous. Let us hope that the Saghakhaneh incident may not repeat itself. If my child is overrun by an American sergeant and there is no court to take up the case, what am I do do? I will go and kill that American and that is going to be to the disadvantage of them as well. Let us not make it that limitless.

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Before the Prime Minister give any further explanations, I would like add in reply to Mr. Sadegh Ahmadi's remark as to why I did not adjourn the meeting nor not approved by the Majless to postpone the ma announced any recess it was because it was/maidthat the session to take place on Thursda I am to enforce whatever that Majless decides (That is right). Mr. Prime Minister, please PRIME MINISTER: You said something about the sergeants. I think whatever explanations that I have already given have some reply to your remark. Of course from that is good feeling, it is praiseworthy. You can be sure that if I have not any stronger feelings than you have. I have not less however. But never we must mix up an essential matter in which our country is involved inith matters which are of exceptional nature. It is not about the sergeants that we talk here; we talk about the chief and the members of the advisory groups of America in the service of the Iranian Army. When we say non-commission officer in the meaning of the word in our language we mean sergeants. etc. It is not that which is now under detable debate. Those people can be civilian, a specialist, an expert, a technician or a sergeant who is an expert in electronics who is from the Defense Department of America. You cannot make a discrimination among them or separate them. Whether they number a hundred, or two hundred or a thousand arrangements the members of the Iran-e-Novin Party shouldn't also know their number who are in the service of the

The second state of the massion. I have already explained what is meant by members of the mission. I have already explained what is expert. (Sadegh Ahmadi: Drivers are among the mission.) No, Sir, hey are not considered as American specialists. (Sadegh Ahmadi: I will take your word).

DECH AHMADI: As the Prime Minister very clearly said that drivers are not among the missions, I will take his word but I am not going to take back what I poposed.

WTY SPEAKER: Mr. Khajehnoori is against that.

JEHNOORI: Takervatar Let's vote.

UTY SPEAKER: Mr. Fooladvand, please.

FOOLADVAND: The Prime Minister made remarks as one who is against it but let me alk as one who is for it. In general one should not talk at the end of a meeting. what Fard said colored American. Please explain it since in our Islamic Law and in a laws of our country we do not discriminate between the colored and whites. FRIME MINISTER: Thank you. Please correct that matter in the proceedings of the meeting. WIADVAND: Contrary to what a journalist has said about me that I recite more poetry an I deliver speech, I would say: Recites a stanza.

How can one listen to all what Mr. Zehtab Fard and Mr. Sadegh Ahmadi said and then wp silent, or say that who cares? I personally am sorry. I praise it and am a follower. The the administration is in majority and makes a figure. We congratulate Mr. Mansur who makes the government of the majority. (one of the representatives:nI would admit it if it the true). May God bless you all the time. When a law is so much debated at the Majless of the House Representatives pay no attention that it is 4 o'clock in the afternoon but we it an honor to be able to serve the country. Mr. Sadegh Ahmadi said that Dr. Khatibi w stayed here so long. If Mr. Riazi was here you have to stay where you are for another twenty-four hours. (Sadegh Ahmadi: He would undoubtedly order a luncheon for us.) He sai that you are denied your luncheons by law and that is right. Well, let us go to the matt What is here being debated must be taken into consideration by the Majless logically. The main topic of the debate is here that is it really necessary to have such immunities in the case of a government who is friendly with us and we are the same to it? Would it be enough ground to have a screw of an electronic machine tightened if we are parties of the same treaty and Agreement? In my opinion, the sincerity of those who make all those remarks and the 20 years that the American have been here until this date they hav been treated with respect. I said a joke the other when Mag. Riazi was present and we had some fun.

DEPUTY SPEAKER[:] You will excuse me Mr. Fooladvand, you only have fime minutes to speak. FOOLADVAND:It is not five minutes yet. What do you mean? Shall I not speak at all? All right, I will go. If you don't permit I will keep silent.

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Please, go ahead.

鞝

FOOLADVAND: You don't permit me.

DEPUTY SPEAKER[†] I said that you only had five minutes and that time is over. Now you can go ahead but make it as brief as possible.

FOOLADVAND: With respect to vaolations committed by the American sergeants. I think dur government has been treating them very kindly with due observance of the international relations. Someone was joking that now the American authorities or the American Government want to abrogate that responsibility. They may even have to punish their sergeants once in a while since you did not punish them. Apart from this matter, Dr. Ziai, I this diplomatic immunities have already been given to some who undertake to carry out some risky work and a confidential one for their government in either a friendly or hostile country. Normally such immunities are given to those who are trained not to abuse their immunity. Surch immunities have been given mostly to those who are trained for diplomat; work so that they may be able to do even to the disadvantage of the country where they are the work that they are told to do, they may be arrested and that is only possible after fulfilment of some formalities. That is something which is reciprocated. It is tr that America has 200 million people and we are not more than one-tenth of them: it is true that we are not able to have their some 1500 or 5000 people as members of our Embassy but that does not mean that what we do should not be reciprocated. You sea that we cannot appoint dutges for the American Government. We can hold our government duty by to do something along the line . What It would be up to the point if we request Mr. Mansur government to take steps so that the American Congress may pass such a status for us. T rould make me very happy. (One of the representatives: We have memory no one there.) I would have to say that they cannot do such a thing. We should feel free under His Majesty's shaddow to express our ideas. When it was said that that is beyond imagination, it is true. That courageous and patriotic man; sergeant or officer it is because their government has sade him an officer or a sergeant, there are some differences that one is said a sergeant and the other an officer; as that is immuter more polite. (sic) We have to talk every detail at the Majless.

SEPUTY SPEAKER: Mr. Fooladwand, if you have anything else to say I would request that you say it at the end intthe general discussions otherwise it will be against the regulations. MOLADWAND: I think this is against the regulations. I am going. MEPUTY SPEAKER: Then let us vote.

MOLADVAND: All right.

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Those who are infavor to have Mr. Fooladvand talk for another ten minutes would stand up please. (just a few stood up). Unfortunately it is not approved. ENGINEER MENBOODI: Is that all the respect you have for the minority? MENUTY SPEAKERE It is Mr. Sadegh Ahmadi's proposal which is under debate; also another proposal has been received from Mr. Abdolhosein Tabatabai which is similar to the proposal sade by Mr. Ahmad. We read it. (reads the following:)

As said by the Prime Minister, it is proposed that it be stressed that the military _advisors who will benefit from the immunities of the Agreement be exclusively the Chief and the Officers of the American Military Advisory groups. Abdolhosein Tabatabai. EPUTY SPEAKER: The same thing has been proposed by Mr. Ahmadi in somewhat different tanner. We will take vote.

ADECH AHMADI: He proposes that it must stress officers, His Excellency, the Prime Minister mays that besides officers there are those with the ranks of sergeants who are experts and specialists. I said that the sergeants be excluded.

EDOLHOSKIN TABATABAI: My proposal will be necessary in case yours is not approved. EPUTY SPEAKER: We are going to take wote on Mr. Ahmadi's proposal which is read once more. Reads as follows:) It is proposed that the sergeants be excluded. Ahmadi.

EPUTI SPEAKER: We take vote on Mr. Ahmadi's proposal. Those who are in favor may stand p please. (A small number stood up). It was not approved. Another proposal was read. It was as follows:

It is proposed that the following sentence be added to the Single Article:

EPUTY SPEAKER Mr. Rambod, please.

-28--

RAMBOD: Whenever the Prime Minister starts talking I come to the conclusion that we show assist the government so that the counter convergence with the relation of the source able to carry on the work. Whenever I want to do my part and let him have a free hand in running the country, I become cautious lest some mistake may occur. I would like to rea proposal that I made once more. When you will go heatres home, please read once more t Articles 29 and 35 and think about the consequences that they might have. (One of the representatives: Except Article 32.) In these articles nothing is said to the effect th if as a result of granting these immunities something happens or an offense immunities or crime is committed which puts Iran in a difficult situation, what is to be done. The offender will say that inso he is not held responsible (One of the representatives: The will be no such case.) Well. if it does not we will thank God; let us hope that there w never be such a case. But if there be, then the Iranian Government, Wis Excellency Mr. Mansur, the Prime Minister, will stretch out his hands to his friends and will say that he does not intend to go to the bottom of the abyss for the sake of his friends. Is not it true in this case that you should not do something to make this world so unbearable pun?

DEFUTY SPRAKER: Is there any objection to Mr. Rambod's proposal? KHAJENOORI: I could not understand the proposal. DEFUTY SPEAKER: We will read it once more.

It is proposed to add the following clause to the end of the Single Article:

"As long as the implementation of this law creates no unfavorable incidents in ## Iran's relations with other countries".

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Do you have any explanations in this respect, Mr. Prime Minister? Pleat PRIME MINISTER: As long as parliamentary debate, discussions, consultations, speeches and especially show of knowledge and information and patriotism and feelings are concern this was an outstanding day. When we speak about essential matters and problems of the country in general, with due consideration of what the representatives have said, it may be said that the country should go ahead and its affairs must be fulfilled. What Mr. Rasaid and proposed has no connection with the matter. Under no circumstances whatsoever thing of the like should be done not only in this case but in every other case as well nor we do such a thing. To mention such a thing in this law will give cause to some assumptions of which you are worried. In my opinion, what you are doing and what we are doing is not disgraceful at all. It is something straightforward and in the interests the country. We should approach the country's problems realistically. DEFUTT SPEAKER: Mr. Sartip-poor, please.

SARTIP#Poor: The farther we gase our eves the calmer we can make our approach to such problems. His Excellency, the Prime Minister, should know it very well that what I have said in the past about everyone of his Ministers remains unchanged. I have my respect for everyone of you and your honor is a part of my honor: in the same way my honor and dignity is a part of yours. But above everything else I love my country, I love my people; I love my national flag. I would never want any power to despise all those. (Good). We should know it very well that the biggest difficulty for the domination of a country is to be able to find a pretext. If one fails to find a pretext, he will then try some other means. Vell. I won't say anything in this respect that by the approval of this bill the inverse judicial laws of my country are being abused. What about if we degrade our judicial system? If others should want to benefit from this matter? I think about this that if a military advisor. either in the higher ranks or lawer. can be committing an offense. or if something of the kind happens, such an offense might be committed by everyone in this country, either citizen of this country or not, please pay attention to this matter. It is not that I want to argue. It is more than such a wish. (Good). That fellow driving a Jeep may overrun one of our countrymen, according to the bill the case will have to be examined somewhere else. There I am not sure whether are they bound to examine the case or not (One of the representatives: They are not obliged to). Suppose one day a foreigner overruns a foreigner residing in Iran, who is to look into the case? They are in our country and subject to our laws. But if we are asked for, if we are guestioned in that respect, can we tell that Ambassador that one of the people under his jurisdictions but in our country was offended, was involved in an incident or was killed by the citizen of another foreign country still in our country but he is not under our jurisdiction or subject to our law? Suppose we tell him so that on the basis of such an such a decree and bill, we cannot do anything in this case. Do you think in that sort of a case we won't be providing him an excuse to find a way for that most difficult thing, that is. to find a pretext by which his country will be able to bring presare uson us and make create difficulties for us, and out our nation in a difficult situation. Such a situation might result in such and difficulties that then I as well as all of you will be sorry for what we might have done. In my opinion if rank as well as in the opinion of His Excellency Dr. Yeganeh if these problems are foreseen and solved; if this problem is solved a problem in which both the Majless and the Government are in a difficult situation: if an honorable solution is found so that there may be no worry left, we will certainly be able to judge about our present and future with a calmer conscience. Otherwise we bett have all such eventualities and problems in mind as it is our country and our nation t are involved in such a case. This is not only my country it is the country of everyon us. As you know nothing is steady in this world nor the time is standing still. You cannot say that emmitties or friendships are steady and do not change. You never know. Something might happen which may create complications, you know that. (Very good.) DEPUTY SPEAKER: We read Mr. Rambod's proposal once more and then we will take vote. (Reads as follows:)

It is proposed that the following clause be added to the end of the Single Articl "As long as the implementation of this law creates no unfavorable incident in Ira relations with other countries" - Rambod.

DEPUTY SPEAKER: We take vote on Mr. Rambod's proposal. Those in favor are sequested t stand up please. (A few stood up). Not approved. Dr. Mobin's proposal is read: (Reads follows):

It is proposed to add the clause "except immunities stated under Article 32 of the Vienna Agreement" be added after the word "Immunities". - Dr. Mobin.

DEPUTY SPEAKER: Dr. Mobin, please.

DR. DOEIN: It was said here that this bill was received from the Senate without Articl DEPUTY SPEAKER: That is not about this bill which is under debate.

DR. MOBIN: It was announced by the Speaker of the House that the decision invite reache by the Majless includes Article 32. Therefore no change is made in the bill. Hence it cannot be conveyed to the government. It must go back to the Senate so that they may make decision about Article 32. But what I said about Article 32, inasmuch as there 9 no Article 32 in the original agreement, we cannot mat those who are subject to immun (Dr. Parsay: It is about the Single Article that the Majless votes) (Khajencori: Artic 32 as you see is about exceptions) I don't care what Article 32 is. I don't say it is something. Let us say that is not important. According to Majless regulations we shoul be notified about the matters debated in the Majless 24 hours in advance. We knew not about Article 32. We therefore cannot make any comments about it. (Khajencori: That h nothing to do with this bill.)

DEPUTY SPEAKER: It is Dr. Mobin's proposal which us put to vote. Is there any more comment? (Some of the representatives: You better take vote, put to vote.)

DEPUTY SPEAKER: / There is no majority for taking votes (Some entered and there was qu for voting) We put po vote. Dr. Mobin's proposal is put to vote. Those in favor, pleas stand up. (Just a limited number stood up). Not approved. Another proposal will be rea

On the basis of what was sm/said by the Prime Minister, It be stated precisely that the military advisors who will avail themselves of the immunities under the Vienna Agreement will exclusively be the wheif and officers of the advisory groups of America. Abdolhossein Tabatabai.

REFUTY SPEAKER: A similar proposal mas immu made by Mr. Sadegh Ahmadi which was not approved. We you still have something to say.

UBATABAI: Wr. Ahmadi proposed that those below officers rank be excluded. It seems that the Prime Minister gave his consent to that and he said that he meant those in the higher marks. That of course makes no change in this bill. I have exactly what y@u said here. RIME MINISTER: I said that you cannot make a division in the matter. Whether an officer, (HEATABAI: When we say below officers rank in our language we mean the sergeants, the orporals, warrant off&cers, etc. If we are to excluse these, as you say we will have to whe changes in the bill so that there may be no judicial problem.

NUME MINISTER: A technician can be a sergeant and may be for some type of work it is a wergeant who is appointed. That means that he is a specialist but is at the same time sergeant. Therefore, we cannot make a division.

LEATABAI: That is contFadictory. However, if you think int it is something to be excepted ou better make some changes in the bill so that its legal aspect may be ensured. That is ull I say. (Representatives: Vote, Vote) It was in put to vote but it was rejected. EFUTY SPEAKER: You still insist on your proposal?

Hajlis yesterday passed Vienne Convention and status bill ro US military personnel, by vote 74 to 61. Disappointingly slim wargin was due to mumber of factors as analysed below, but what stands out is that New Iran Party leadership lost control over substantial number of its own h # ... followers.

There are presently 188 deputies in Moglie, of which 136 are New Izan Party members. Some 50 New Iran Party deputies seem to have been absent, and of those present we estimate at losst 12 must have voted against covernment. This became casier for then when opposition was successful in forcing secret vote, which is highly unusual but can be obtained unfor lajlis regulations if 15 deputies ask for it.

Sequence of events and factors entering into the vote ware as follows: 1. Mondey's New Iren Party caucus (reftol) seemingly ment so well that Lansur, Yegansh and Ziai decided to speed up schedule and bring both bills to vote Tuesday. That Farty lasdarship was obviously over-confident is shown by fact that us pority made no special effort to round up the supporters to secure sexience attendance. were busy elsewhere.) Hardon and independents, who wake up "opposition", were practically all present.

2. From beginning of debate, Frikin was on the defensive. While Najlis contacts say they simired his composure under fire, Kansur apparently thought he was dealing only with usual "opposition" which could be stearrolle by New Iran Party majority. Fact that government was abandoned by some of it can supporters (either by adverse vote or deliberate scence) came as rude shock after outcome of vote was announced. Defore the vote Ziai had told us New Iran Party expected only two or three defections.

3. Government made long and comprehensive statement about purport of bill, and Mansur offered repeated interpretations in course of debate. Since there may constitute important legislative history, we will submit separate analysis as soon as full record of debate available. Apparently government was forthright in explaining scope and status of bill and did not hedge in its explanations.

h. Opposition either did not get the word that Shah wanted status bill passed, or else it had license to attack government. In any case Hardon and independents pulled out all the stops, especially after they were voted down in succession of procedural maneuvers designed to delay vote. Government apparently felt (erroneously) that if opposition did not want bill to be trought to vote, it must be weak.

Some speakers claimed that status bill would wipe out civil liability in such cases. Among the more sourrilous arguments heard use that, if status bill was presed, an American non-con could henceforth "slap the face of an Iranian general with impunity." Nost violent speakers against status bill wave deputies Sahtab-Fard and Sartip-pur, both independents; but may others also talked against, including Mardon group leader Manbod.

There were clearly anti-American themes employed by some of opposition spankers, some of them quite ridiculous (such as inclumation that PriNim must be an American puppet because he had once rented a house to US Robaccy officer who was alleged to be "running the government.") enthusiastic supporters of status bill. All the emotion was on the other side.

In conclusion, we find that while it is heartening that long drawnout question of status of US military personnel in Iran is now settled in Parliament, not only Manaur but to some extent also the Shah's regime has paid an unexpectedly high price in getting this done. That price was due in large measure to ineptitude of government's handling both in upper and lover house, but it would be idle to minimize the nationalist reaction whi passage of the bill called forth. It will take several days to assess whether this is a temporary phenomenon that will blow over, as now seems likely, or whether it will have some longer-lasting effects on our relation with Iren.

MEMORANDUM OF CONVERSATION

PARTICIPANTS:

H.E. Ahmad MIRPENDERESKI, Under Secretary, Ministry of Poreign Affairs Mr. Stuart W. Rockwell, Charge d'Affaires a.i.

PLACE:

Ministry of Foreign Affairs

DATE :

October 21, 1964

SUBJECT: Vienna Convention

I had a long talk this morning with Under Secretary of the Foreign Ministry MIRFENDERESKI concerning the Vienna Convention and its passage through the Majlis. I specifically asked him whether the government planned to issue any explanatory statements, or even his own testimony in the Majlis, in order to calm public opinion and relieve those who may be genuinely concerned over the implications of the measure since they have not been given the relevant facts.

Mirfenderteki said that a decision had been taken not to publish any olarification. He thought this would re-open the matter, which was calming down, and give the opponents of the Bill and of the government new material to use. The politicians and Deputies who were against the Bill were against it not because of its substance but because of the opportunity it offered to attack the Americans and the government, and they would not be convinced by any public explanation. The majority of the public thought about such matters as immunities for foreigners with their hearts and not with their heads, and also would not be convinced by an official clarification. Moreover, with the passage of time most people would forget about the matter.

Mirfendereski went on to say that this had been a bitter pill to swallow. If he had been handling it during the earlier stages he would have strongly recommended against submitting the matter to the Majlis. This had been done, however, and he said, somewhat wryly, that maybe the picture wasn't as black as it seemed. The Bill had been passed; those who do not wish the Majlis to be a rubber stamp had been gratified; those who believe in majority rule had made their point, and those who wish to attack the government had been able to do so.

When I said that we would wish as soon as possible to begin conversations to clarify datails consering the status of our military personnel, Mirfendereski strongly urged that we make no move at all until the fire has burned down. He said that there were people who were anti-American and anxious to do us harm, and that they have eyes and ears everywhere (I assume this meant in the Ministry itself). If we were now to remume official conversations, this would quickly get back to our enemies and allow them to rekindle the blase.

When I mentioned the emchange of Notes, Mirfundereski said that, owing to the tampering by the Benate with the Foreign Ministry's submission, the emchange of Notes had become separated from the Vienna Convention and the matter they dealt with had been turned into a law in itself. This law was now the governing document, not the exchange of Notes. The law states a that the privileges of the Vienna Convention shall be extended to the Chief of the Military Advisory Mission and his subordinate personnel. There is an expecific reference to dependents, and Mirfendereski had not said in the Mailis that the Ministry considered that the immunities would apply to the dependents, in view of the superheated atmosphere. An assendment specifical emcluding the dependents from immunity had been defeated and he had judged it better to leave it at that. He could assure me, however, that there was a "gentleman's agreement" between us that dependent personnel would be covered and that if any dependent became involved in a case leading te eriminal charges, the Ministry would take action to see that that person was not provesued therefor.

TALKINO PAPER

Bubject: Clarification of the Coverage of the Status Bill

We have listened sympathetically to what Mirfendereski said to us on October 21, and we are therefore prepared to desist for the moment from any formal action to obtain clarification of the coverage of the Status Bill, but there were some remarks made by him on that occasion with which we do not agree and we hope the Foreign Ministry will leave these questions open until they can be discussed in a guist atmosphere.

In particular, we cannot agree to his remark that the Status Bill itealf supersedes the original Exchange of Notes. We do not see how this could be so since the Government itself, in its explanations in the Parliament, made it clear that the Bill is supposed to give affect to what was agreed in the Exchange of Notes. Without wishing to go into detail now, we see nothing in the record of the discussions in the Sanate and in the Majlis that would suggest mything else than legalisation of our Exchange of Notes. The Frime Minister referred to the Exchange of Notes in the Majlis plenary, and we understand that the Foreign Ministry submitted the Exchange of Notes to the Foreign Affairs Committee when the bill was discussed there.

From our point of view, of course, we have an agreement with the Iranian Government. We cannot scoept the idea that that agreement has in any way been altered by the particular form which the parliamentary retification took. What transpires between the Iranian Government and the Iranian Parliament is an internal Iranian matter, but what was agreed between the Iranian Government and the American Government cannot be modified or reinterpreted by the Iranian Government unlisterally. We would regret it very much if there were to be a dispute about this, but we are confident that any remaining questions can be worked out to our would estimication, given good will on both sides.

There were some specific points made by Mirfendereski on October 21 which surprised us very much, and we are confident that upon reexamination he will find that they were in error. There can be no question but that dependents are specifically covered not only by our Exchange of Notes, but also according to the Status Bill, since "technical and administrative personnel" enjoy certain privileges and immunities under Article 37, persgraph (W), of the Vienna Convention, which explicitly also applies to dependents. We use this only as an example of the need for clarification.

Of course, we appreciate Mirfandareski's statement that all matters can be worked out informally, but we must think of the future when he himself will no longer be here and officials less conversant with the history of the Status Bill may be in charge. The purpose of the whole exercise has been to clarify the status of our military personnel in Iran. What good would have come from all the trouble and inconvenience and political unpleasantness of the past weeks if the result would fail to bring the necessary clarity? Washington has the record of the relevant excrespondence and of the legislative discussions, and there is no disposition to leave matters subject to personal interpretations of individual efficials.

Incidentally, since Washington has all these records it would never do to tell them, for instance, what Mirfendereski told us on October 21, that there had been a wote on the question of limiting the coverage to the military personnel while excluding their dependents. Our scrutiny of the record discloses that there was no such vote. (This remark is important in order to show Myrfendereski that we have made a careful study of the record. The point itself is of no consequence, but he should understand that we are quite sware of everything that was said in the plenary.)

We also know, incidentally, that the Prime Minister had intended that the exact wording of the Exchange of Notes be brought to the attention of the plenary. He said clearly that Mr. Mirfenderaski would read those notes Although we regretted to see that this was not actually done after all the discussions we had on this very subject, we have consulted an Iranian constitutional expert (Dr. Ali Pasha Saleh) and he also feels there can be no doubt that the legislative history establishes the intent of the Government that the Status Bill should give effect to our original Exchange of Notes.

The thing to avoid, if possible, is formal diplomatic exchanges on these clarifications. We think we should have informal discussions with the Ministry's legal experts, and we wish to be as helpful as possible in those discussions. For instance, we can readily understand that the words "sdvisory wissions", if literally interpreted, might lead an Iranian court of law to exclude our topographic survey teams from coverage. We would like to discuss, therefore, the question whether these teams, which are here to leaf support to the Iranian Covernment just like ARMISH/MAAC and GENMISH, wight have to be re-named Topographic Advisory Tesms. There are other, similar questions, which we are prepared to discuss in all frankmass and in an effort to be helpful to the Iranian Government.

We will also wish to discuss with the Forsign Hinistry's separate the best form of documentation for our military personnel, which will result in avoiding any doubt about their status in the future. We think some identification cards referring to their status will be helpful both to us and to the Forsign Hinistry, for there have been recent cases when the police and the judicial authorities were not clear about the status even of members of our Army Attache's staff.

(Note: If at all possible, we should aide-step discussion of the most troublesome aspect of the Status Bill, the phrase "in the employ of the Imperial Government." There are plausible legal arguments that can be advanced why this phrase cannot literally mean "in the employ", and our lawyers are better qualified to make this case in their discussions with the Iranian lawyers, if necessary. But there is no evidence so far that the Iranian Government intends to use a restrictive interpretation of this phrase. This involves the most important clarification that we will have to obtain in the course of the for theorem,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE FILES

October 28, 1964

SUBJECT: Vienna Convention

I had a further conversation with the Under Secretary of the Foreign Ministry today concerning the Vienna Convention.

With reference to a remark made by him last week, I said that we had considered the matter and could not agree that the Status Bill itself supersedes the original Exchange of Notes. This could not be, in our view, since the government itself, in its explanations to the Parliament, made it clear that the Bill is supposed to give effect to what was agreed in the Exchange of Notes. Furthermore, the Prime Minister referred to the Exchange of Notes in the Majlis Plenary, and we understand that the Foreign Ministry submitted the Exchange of Notes to the Foreign Affairs Committee when the Bill was discussed there. From our point of view, we have an agreement with the Iranian Government and believe that what was agreed between the two governments cannot be modified or reinterpreted by the Iranian Government unilaterally. We could not accept the idea that the agreement in any way has been altered by the particular form which the Parliamentary ratification took.

Mr. Mirfendereski listened to all of this but limited his comment to saying, "The law passed by the Majlis is the same as the Exchange of Notes".

I then referred to the status of dependents, saying that dependents were covered not only by the Exchange of Notes but by the Status Bill itself under Article XXXVII of the Vienna Convention. I added that we had not been able to find in the official account of the Majlis proceedings any reference to a motion for an amendment to exclude dependents from immunities. Mirfendereski said that no matter what the official record may say, such an amendment was put forward and defeated.

I remarked that we had been disappointed, after reading in the proceedings that the Prime Minister said that Mr. Mirfengdereski would now read the text of the Exchange of Notes, that Mr. Mirfendereski had apparently not done so. The Under Secretary said that indeed the Exchange of Notes had not been read in the Majlis and that the record was again erroneous if it stated that the Prime Minister announced that the Exchange would be read. I commented that despite the non-reading of the Exchange, it was our view and that of an Iranian expert on our staff that there can be no doubt that the legislative history establishes the intent of the government that the Status Bill should kive effect to the Exchange of Notes.

Mr. Mirfendereski said that the whole question of immunities for American military personnel had turned out to be very troublesome indeed. The first difficulty had been created when the Senate had separated the Exchange of Notes from the Vienna Convention, and had created a separate law referring to Americans "in the employ" of the Iranian Government. He did not understand why this had been done. A serious and continuing problem was the knowledge in the possession of some critics that the Iranian Government had given to the Americans more in the way of immunities than they had received from any other nation, as the relevant Agreements in the hands of the Iranian Foreign Ministry revealed. In the Agreement with Pakistan, for example, there were provisions for the retention of jurisdiction by the Pakistan Government and a similar provision existed in the NATO Treaty. In the Greek Treaty the military advisory personnel were considered as members of the American Embassy. In the Turkish Treaty immunity only extended to acts committed while on official duty and there was provision for a bilateral commission to determin whether duty status was involved. But in the case of Iran, jurisdiction in criminal matters had been totally waived by the Majlis law and no amount of explanatory words could conceal this fact.

I of course said that the Agreement with Pakistan and the others had been in the possession of the Foreign Ministry for months, since we had provided them, and that we had been perfectly willing to conclude an Agreement of the Pakistan or Turkish type. The Foreign Ministry, however, had felt that the Vienna Convention afforded an excellent vehicle for arranging immunities, and the decision to go to the Majlis with the Convention and the Exchange of Notes had been taken by the Iranian authorities themselves. It was too late now to be thinking of other types of Agreements. Mr. Mirfendereski agreed with this.

He then came up with the following suggestion, which he said he was putting forward entirely personally without the knowledge of anyone else. He asked us to "think it over". The suggestion was that there be another Exchange of Notes in which the Iranian Government would notify us that the Status Bill had been approved by the Senate and Majlis, and was now in effect. In return the U.S. Government would take note of this and, referring to that paragraph of the Vienna Convention dealing with the waiver of immunity by the seeking State, would make some kind of reference to the willingness of the United States to give favorable consideration to waiving immunity in cases considered especially important by the Iranian Government. This would be along the lines of a similar provision in the Agreement with Pakistan. If this new Exchange of Notes were given publicity on a suitable occasion, Mr. Mirfendereski thought it would go far to remove the unfavorable atmosphere existing for both Iran and the United States over the Status Bill.

I told the Under Secretary that we would think this suggestion over but that, of course, we could offer no opinion without authorization from Washington and that if we sought the views of the USG we would have to indicate the source of the suggestion. I also inquired whether, in the event the USG agreed to such an exchange, it might not be possible at the same time once and for all to resolve all the problems which had not yet been clarified, such as that involving the use of the term "in the employ of the Iranian Government", the application of the Majlis law to all U.S. military missions in Iran, etc. The Under Secretary said he thought that it should be possible to do this.

SUBJECT: Vienna Convention

I had a further conversation with the Under Secretary of the Foreign Ministry today concerning the Status Bill. He referred to our conversation yesterday and particularly to my remarks to the effect that we did not agree that the Status Bill supersedes the Exchange of Notes. He said that under the Iranian Constitution there can be no such thing as an Executive Agreement, since all such arrangements have to be ratified by the Mailis. In this case the Mailis did not ratify the Exchange of Notes, but created a new law, and therefore the Exchange of Notes" has no juridical status" and remains "suspended in the air". I reiterated our argumentation that the legislative history clearly reveals the intention of the government to give legislative effect to the Exchange of Notes and said that in our view the Exchange of Notes remained valid, regardless of whether it had juridical status or not, unless it were modified by official action of the Iranian Foreign Ministry vis-a-vis this Embassy. I said that we considered there were two documents which were valid in this matter, the law and the Exchange of Notes, and that in reality they said the same thing, as he himself had stated yesterday. I further said that I hoped this matter would not become a subject of dispute between us, since all kinds of legal complexities might be involved and no good would be achieved. He agreed that the legislation of the Exchange of Notes served the same purpose and also that we must not permit a dispute to arise between us over this aspect.

I then said that I had been doing some thinking about his suggestion of yesterday that there might be a second exchange of notes involving some reference to the paragraph of the Vienna Convention dealing with the waiver of immunity. I inquired whether there might no be danger that opponents of the government, upon learning of the second exchange, might not criticize the government on the grounds that it had not known what it was doing when it sponsored the legislation and that now it had had to have recourse to the Americans to save its face with the Iranian people. The Under Secretary thought that only the most malign people would use this tactic and that such an arrangement would go far to remove concern among sincere people.

In a subsequent conversation with the Prime Minister the latter said, in response to my questions, that no specific word had gone directly from the Shah to the Mardum group in the Majlis that they were not to oppose the legislation. The Prime Minister had consistently urged the Shah not to seek to instruct the Deputies, but to leave the responsibility of achieving majority decisions on legislation to the Prime Minister, since it was necessary to give the Majlis members the feeling that they exercise a certain degree of freedom. The Prime Minister had so far been able to produce the needed votes on legislation which the regime wanted, and he had not expected the degree of opposition and the cleverness of tactics which were used over the Status Bill. This was clearly the result of intrigues by people who were against his government and against the Americans, and Mansur specificially mentioned Arsanjani and Senators Sharif Emami and Sajjardi. He said the objective of the latter was to cause the Majlis to make an amendment in the legislation, no matter how slight, so that it would have to be sent back to the Senate, and there the Senators would try to alter the Bill and to recover the face they lost in the eyes of people who feel that they had been hoodwinked by the government. The Prime Minister gave me to understand that the Opposition had been led to believe by the government that a little talking against the Bill would be all right. However, the use of such tactics as calling the Deputies "traitors" if they voted for the Bill had had a totally unexpected effect on the more simple members of the Majlis. In the face of all these intrigues the Prime Minister felt he had no alternative but to push the Bill through as quickly as possible and to defeat all motions to alter it. He felt the same way about making public clarifications. This would do more harm than good.

(I am now more than ever convinced that the Shah did not authorize opposition to the Bill and that the reason that word from him not to oppose was not conveyed very strongly was that the Prime Minister had assured the Shah that there would be no serious trouble. Mansur told me that it was true that the Opposition leadership had assured him that they would not strongly oppose.)

The Prime Minister then raised the question of whether there was anything that could be done now to alter what had been passed by the Majlis along the lines of the Pakistani Agreement. After making clear that we would have been entirely agreeable to signing a Pakistani-type Agreement in the first place, I said that I did not see how this now could be done without reference back to the Majlis and that I thought this would be most undesirable, as it would reopen the whole question. He agreed, but it was clear that the whole experience had been profoundly disturbing to him and that he was seeking in his mind a way to put a better light on things. I did not mention to him Mirfendereski's suggestion about the waiver of immunity clause in the Vienna Convention.

the Shah. This was very poorly received. How could Rambod believe, the Shah replied, that GOI could submit such an important piece of legislation to Parliament without his explicit spproval? But Shah did not specifically instruct Ranbod to desist from opposition.

Prime Minister himself subsequently told me that no rpt no specific word had gone from the Shah to Mardon group that they were not to oppose the Status Bill. This, he said, was in line with Mansur's consistent policy which is to urge the Shah not to seek to instruct the deputies but to leave responsibility for achieving majority decisions on legislation to the Prime Minister. In other words, as previously reported, Mansur had been over-confident. Had he asked the Shah to send specific instructions to the opposition, there is no reason to doubt they would have been sent.

If Mansur was over-confident, one reason for this, which has also come to light during past few days, is that he was deliberately tricked by the opposition leaders. On the day prior to the vote, October 12, Rambod told New Iran Party leadership that he had decided not to sttack the Status Bill. Under the circumstances, the majority was unprepared for virulance of opposition sttacks and some panicked when words like "treason" and "violation of the constitution" were used. Mansur has confirmed to us, incidentally, that mong New Iran Party defectors were especially former land reform officials who, understandably, are particularly susceptible to influence of Arsenjani.

One further fact that has energed from these recent discussions is that complete disaster was avoided by even parrower squark than we had believed. According to PriMin, there was conserved move afoot to amend the bill in order to have it returned to the Senate, where Sharif-Emami and group of Senators would have been delighted to recover the face they lost in eyes of people who feel that Senate acted too quickly in approving status arrangement. This serves to confirm window of our decision (see section 1 ref airgram) that it was better to accept somewhat unsatisfactory wording of the bill as it had come from Senate, than to risk complete deadlock which could have resulted from any attempt to amend it.

One especially troublesome element in current criticism of Govt and of Status Bill is that it also comes from elements of the Iranian judiciary that will have to implement the law. As Department is aware, a restrictive interpretation of the law, without reference to the original exchange of notes, could leave us without the full coverage that we had sought and that Govt had intended to give us. This is also worrying Foreign Ministry officials with whom we are discussing ways and means of assuring that the

2 November 1964

MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD: Meeting with Foreign Minister Area

SUBJECT: Immunities Bill

1. On 1 November 1964, at his urgent invitation, Mr. Hers, United States Embassy and myself visited Dr. Kasemi of the legal staff of the Foreign Ministry to discuss the implications of the recent Majlis approval of the Immunities Bill. Dr. Kasemi said he needed explanations and guidance so that he could answer questions put to him by his Foreign Minister.

2. The recent expression of the Prime Minister before the Senate was discussed and it was agreed that some of his utterances were inaccurate with regard to interpretation of the Vienna Convention.

3. Dr. Kazemi was particularly interested in determining the difference, if any, between the two components of ARMISH/MAAG-ARMISH and MAAG. We assured him that there was no real difference and explained that the two terms had grown out of the Advisory Mission which was first established as a result of the 1947 Agreement and the later MAAG Group which was established to support the Military Assistance Program started in 1950. It was pointed out that the functions of the two groups have long since been merged and that the number of advisors far exceeds the so-called accredited spaces attributable to ARMISH.

4. The necessity for obtaining proper identification cards for persons to be covered by the Convention was emphasized to Dr. Kazemi. The fact that proper identification would minimize the necessity for judicial authorities to interpret the meaning of the new Bill was discussed. Dr. Kazemi appeared to agree with this premise. Dr. Kazemi then informed us that the Foreign Minister himself would appreciate having our explanations directly from us so we repaired to his office for the discussion.

5. Dr. Aram also expressed an interest in the terms ARMISH and MAAG and these were again explained. He expressed an interest in the other U.S. military groups in Iran and requested that we submit a paper to him outlining what these groups were and, if possible, include a copy of each pertinent Agreement establishing their functions in Iran. We were asked if we considered civilian employees to be within the purview of the Convention and we explained our position that we felt the definition contained in Note Nr. 299 was still pertinent, i.e., all DOD employees and their families were considered as being a part of the technical and administrative staff as defined in the Convention. The Foreign Minister neither affirmed nor denied this position. When we said that the Iranian Government surely wishes to give effect to our exchange of notes he agreed, but at another time he said he was troubled by the view that the notes have been superseded by the Bill.

FOR OFFICAL USE ONLY

MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD: Immunities Bill

6. With regard to scope of application of the provisions of the Bill it was pointed out to the Foreign Minister that as a matter of custom, international law provides that the Foreign Ministry has the power to conclusively determine the question of diplomatic status of individuals, (citing Oppenheim's International Law, Lauterpacht, Volume I, Paragraph 357), and that we therefore felt that ratification of the Convention gave the Foreign Ministry sufficient latitude to determine who would be immune under its provisions without further reference to any other deliberative body. Mr. Aram said the matter is not that simple because other Ministers (he mentioned the Ministry of Economy) do not recognize his Ministry's prerogative in the matter.

7. We also urged that the action of the Senate in specifically applying the provisions of the Convention to U.S. military personnel "in the employ" of the Iranian Government did not affect our agreement but helped the Iranian Government to clarify the questionable status of one category of personnel where legislative action has been necessary, but could not be interpreted to restrict the application of immunities to these people only. This would be so since normally the employees of the receiving state would not benefit from any immunity conferred on representatives of a sending state. We referred to the earlier exchange of notes as showing the necessity for clarification of this particular category of personnel in the Missions. We assured the Foreign Minister that an attempt to restrict the application to only these persons in the employ of the Iranian Government would almost completely nullify the intent of the two Governments. The Foreign Minister first indicated that the previous Notes exchanged on the subject might be of no validity inasmuch as the Senate had expressly deleted reference to the Notes in the Bill which they finally passed. After our position was explained to the Foreign Minister, that we considered the Notes to be particularly important as an expression of the intent of the parties and further, that we felt. ME legislative history compiled prior to passage of the Bill must be matered to as expressive of the intent of the Iranian Government, he seemed to be tentatively in agreement, but still troubled.

8. It is noted that both Dr. Aram and Dr. Kasemi tried to minimize the significance to either the Exchange of Notes or the legislative history accompanying passage of the Bill. We made it perfectly clear that we did attach particular significance to both the Notes and the legislative history.

9. Everyone agreed that it was necessary to charly define the role of the military missions in Iran today, i.e., that we are not members of troop units and that the missions in Iran are strictly advisory and not tactical in the military sense. The Foreign Minister indicated that thepopular opposition stemmed from the image of the military gained from past experience. Dr. Aran said that the opposition to the Bill had been particularly heavy from religious leaders and also that radio Peiping was utilizing the Bill as a propaganda measure.

10. The Foreign Minister also desired to know why a Status of Forces Agreement had not been requested, rather than working through the medium of the Vienna Convention. The difference between a Status of Forces arrangement and the conferring of diplomatic status was thoroughly explained and an example of the two types of Agreements was given, citing that of the Communications Unit Agreement in Pakistan and the conferring of inmunity on the MAAG in Pakistan by assimilation to the United States Enbassy. Dr. Aram requested copies of these two Agreements and Mr. Herz agreed to extract them. (Since he already has the SOF type of agreement, it was agreed that only the relevant language of the MDA Agreement must be furnished.) Other agreements of a like nature were cited and Dr. Aram requested a list of those countries conferring immunities on military advisory groups along with the significant wording of these agreements. Mr. Herz told Dr. Aram that the mode of solving this problem through the Vienna Convention had been agreed upon by the predecessors representatives of both Governments and that it apparently was felt by the Iranian Government that working through the Convention was preferable to a Military Defense Assistance Agreement or a formal Status of Forces Agreement.

11. We also told the Minister that while this Bill had caused political significance in Iran that the situation with the advisory group had long been a matter of concern to the American Congrees and that we feel that this fact should be weighed in its significance also by the Iranian authorities. Dr. Aram agreed.

12. In connection with the image of the American military group, Major Mart pointed to the absence of any serious violent crime committed by members of the American military Asince its inception in 1947. The Foreign Minister said this was most useful information. Kr. Herz mentioned that if a serious crime were committed, we would probably waive jurisdiction. Dr. Aram asked if this could be confirmed in writing, but Mr. Herz said 'we are still working on this matter'. It was further pointed out that the military authorities would puylish offenders (trial outside of Iran) and our policy with regard to the payment of claims was reiterated. A specific case in point was discussed wherein payment of 600,000 rials will be made to an Iranian claimant on 2 November in connection with an automobile accident involving a Department of Army civilian. The Foreign Minister requested a comprehensive paper on this matter of payment of claims from Major Hart, apparently feeling that this information would be of value as a publicity matter. Dr. Aram emphasized that there should be a cooling off period before an attempt was made to implement the Bill. He did not indicate how long this period should be. In summary he made three points:

FOR OFFICEL USE JNLY

MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD: Immunities Bill

a. The need to clarify the exact scope of application of the Bill, and his willingness to do this.

b. The need to orient the "man in the street" as to the position of the military in Iran and.

c. The need for a cooling off period.

13. In conclusion it is felt that the following points are significant:

a. At present there is no clear acceptance by the Foreign Minister of our position that all DOD employees and their families are covered by the Bill. Their attitude with regard to this is inconclusive — they neither accept nor reject this premise. We must push our interpretation of this scope at every opportunity and our interpretation of the Bill as giving the executive branch (Foreign Ministry) the prerogative to determine who shall be covered strict this power which has always existed under international pract-

b. In order to preclude the opportunity for administrative and judicial interpretation, identification cards for personnel affected, readily identifiable to police authorities, are an absolute necessity.

c. The Iranian authorities must possess sufficient facts about the military mission to be able to explain the true mission and thus be prepared to counter opponents of the Bill.

d. While a cooling off period prior to implementation may be advisable so as not to seriously affect the present administration, we must take care not to allow this inertia to be interpreted as an accepted, long-term condition.

> because of the political situation of close ecopyration that surrounds ear ambiguration maintenance program. Some polate in this connection are elarified in the most following discussion which relates to the Vienne Componison.

Me. The U.S. Gereannest has long been propared to conclude a standard MA type of agreement with the Ireaian Government; and there is no remean to demit time, if the Ireaian Government had preferred a SOF type of greenent, this also could have been concluded. The Ireaian Government performed, however, to the the matter to the Yieum Convention. This is not wannesh. Since the Convention was concluded in 1961, other constrike have also found it convenient to define the immunities of similar U.S. military percennel by reference to the Fiemen Convention.

11. Thereas the MA Agreements do may go into any distinction betwee existent and sixil jurisdiction (which is practice, however, is now tofined is accordance to the Vienne Convention), the Vienne Convention elevely specifies that immunity frem orthical proceeding is alsolute (in the second "administrative and technical staff") whereas immunity from sixil and administrative jurisdiction "admil not extend to soluperformed outside the secone of their dation."

Since this is now the accepted international earon, it is expanse that there really is no substantive difference between Visume Convertion treatment and treatment under the MDA Agreements; but if the Iranian Government finds it advantageous, for public relations purposes, to clain that the immunities accorded to U.S. military personnel are more limited then these which the V.S. receives in other constrints, we have no objection to such a general statement. Then it comes to particulars, however, we must be very countril.

14. It has been stated, for instance, that under the bill passed by the Innuism Parliament the dependents reserve to immunity. This is clearly erromeous. Article 37, paragraph 2 of the Viscon Convention confure the immunities described above to "manhors of the solutionistic and technical staff of the mission, tegether with manhors of their families forming part of their respective homostolds."

13. It has also been stated, also errowsemaly, that certain members of the V.S. military stringery missions are not covered by the Timme Communica. By the text of the bill itself, which mingly species of "the Obiof and Mambers of the United Distant Military Advisory Missions", there can be no distinction between different binks of members.

14. As regards original jurisdiction, while this is a matter of politionl importance because of the obergs that immusity involves some nuclus consecutor to the foreign government, actually there has been no sorious violent orige committed by a mader of the V.C. willtony mission in Ison.

35. As regards civil jurisdiction, is possible ARCEN/MAG, seting for all the military personnel in Isan (even military etheches and their staff), has inveriably make expeditions settlement of claims even without the meed to report to Isanian courts; but it is sucception that civil claims in off-buty cases could come under the jurisdiction of Isanian courts.

Saring our disassions with FonOff after passage of status bill (discussions which in view of overheated political atmosphere we kept deliberately tentative and informal), we encountered antivalent position On one hand Hirfendereski, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, acknowle that status bill and exchange of notes "are the same", but other hand felt that exchange of notes night be deemed to be superseded by the law he expressed doubt for instance that dependents are covered. (As we see it, dependends are clearly covered becaused rticle 37, paragraph 2 of Vienue Convention defines privileges and immunities of personnel describ in article 1. paragraph f.) We have of course taken position that our criginal agreement as contained in exchange of notes cannot be limited of redefined by Iranian domestic law, but there is real possibility that In courts might in future apply only the letter of the status law and not i manifest spirit, unless we mail down procise coverage soom in agreement with Iranian govt.

We view this problem as primarily political rather than leval. Got has permitted itself to be placed on defensive, and its policy of suppre public discussion has not, as it had expected, resulted in quisting widesprend opposition. Among charges made against Mansur and FonOff is that by applying Vienne Convention to is military personnel in Iran they have granted us more than we have received through various status of forces evrengements in other countries, notably in neighboring Turkey and Fakistan. This is of course partially true. If Iran had wanted SOF type of arrangement we would presumably have been progared to accept it, by: Iran preferred to the immunities to Vienna Convention. Mansur govt 's now in awkward position of having to explain to knowledgeable people, including Iranian legal profession, why in Iran jurisdiction is surrendered to US courts in all oriminal cases whereas it is known that status of US communications unit in Pakistan, for instance, clearly involves such surrender only in off-duty cases. Horeover, SOF agreements have language calling for maiver of primary jurisdiction in cases of "particular importance" and, on the face of it, arrangement enacted by Iranian Farliament makes no such provision.

We think it would be exceedingly helpful to GOI, and thereby would improve our chances of getting the clarifications that we require, if we could (perhaps in return for specific acceptance of status definition of our Note 299) say to them that with respect to the valver provisions in Article 32 of Vienna Convention, we will in future "give sympathetic consideration to a request from the Imperial Government for a waiver of REPRODUCTION FROM THIS COPY IS CONTINUENTIAL PROMISITED UNLESS "OFFICIAL USE the U.S. would, if it were politically important, waive immunity regardlass of Article 32 of Vienne Convestion and whether or not SOF type of arrangement exists. GOI would have to understand, of course, that "cases of particular importance" would only be beincus orines such as marder or wape, and not for instance traffic offenses regardless of thair seriourness. Since there is no distinction in the status law between on-duty and off-duty offenses, we believe it would be difficult to use the more stagerical language in the Fairistan SOF agreement (TDS 4281, Ammar B, parm 3 c) which emits the words "give sympathetic comeiderstion."

Although we are prepared to argue that in any case the status Mill clearly gives affect to the exchange of motes, and thus to our definitid in Note 299 (and we have good legal arguments to make this case, includi but not limited to those outlined in our A-195), for political reasons i seems most desirable that we be able to offer the OOI something in rotur for the applicit clarification that we require. As Washington is aware our experience in provious status cases, the Iremian judiciary is not always amenable to direction from PomOff in immunity matters. Therefore

We think expression of our willingness to waive immunity in criminal cases "of particular importance" would go a long may toward creating such a political alignete, is addition to making the OOI more emeable/to clarifying our coverage.

We realise that definition of U.S. position in this matter will probably require several days. However, we are in continuing combant with FonOff and as statements are beginning to be made which tend to muddy the situation still further, we would appreciate preliminary Waahington views as soon as possible.

part of the entity formed by the members of the mission. The Prime Minister then said that it had been stated in the Majlis that members of the family were not covered. When I asked by whom, he said, "some Deputies". I pointed out that no member of the government, prior to the passage of the legislation, had made any such distinction, and that the actions of himself and the Under Secretary of the Foreign Ministry had clearly been designed to obtain legislative effect for the Exchange of Notes by our two governments and not to restrict the validity of the undertakings contained in those Notes.

The Prime Minister then picked up the phone and asked for Dr. YEGANEH. When the latter came on, Mr. Mansour asked in Persian about the possibility of altering the text of the record of his remarks in the Senate concerning the members of the family. He did this in such a way as to lead to the clear impression that the matter had been discussed between the two men before. After listening to Dr. Yeganeh, the Prime Minister said that, as I knew, his remarks had lasted an hour, without a text, and that it was possible that a mistake might have been made here and there. For example, one Persian word, "khanevade" means a family in the sense of parents and blood relations, while another "khanevar" means household, in the sense of all the people living under one roof and dependent upon the head of the family. It was the latter term which he had had in mind and there had been no intention at all on his part to exclude the American dependents from immunity. What he had meant was that Iranian and other non-American employees of the military personnel were not covered by the new law.

I said that I was pleased to hear that this was what he had had in mind and asked how we should proceed in order to make certain that all doubts were cleared up. In reply, Mr. Mansour first said that it was very important that nothing more be said publicly about this matter. His remarks in the Senate had calmed things down and the situation should not be heated up again. Mistakes could be quietly corrected, but meanwhile it was important that the Embassy not make comments to the press or other remarks which could be used by unfriendly people to keep the pot boiling. I of course said that we had carefully refrained from talking about the matter in order not to create the impression that there was a dispute between us but that we had both suffered in the process of this whole debate and that we felt strongly that out of it we should obtain, with certainty and precision, the ends which we had both been seeking. The Prime Minister reiterated that there was no difference between us and that as soon as the minor administrative matter of putting the missing Article 32 back into the text of the Vienna Convention as passed by the Majlis is completed, the Iranian Government would formally notify us that the Convention had been adopted as well as a law applying it fully to the military missions here. If at some subsequent date there should arise a

SUBJECT: The Vienna Convention and the Status Bill

I called on the Prime Minister at my request today to discuss furth with him the Vienna Convention and the Status Bill. I went on to say that I had also come to seek his help in connection with the report which I would have to make to my government concerning certain aspects of his remarks which, if accurately reported in the press, seemed out of line with our understanding. I added that I had reported nothing to Washington, and had refrained from any official comment to the local press, in order to avoid the impression that there might be a misunderstanding or dispute between our two governments when in fact, as I hoped to hear from him, there was no such divergence of views.

I referred to his reported statements to the effect that members of the families of the military men are not covered by the immunities granted by the new legislation, nor are personnel other than military members, and also that immunity from criminal jurisdiction extends only in cases involving on-duty status.

Taking up the latter point first, the Prime Minister said that regard less of what may have been reported, he had not claimed in the Senate that immunity from criminal jurisdiction would not apply in off-duty hours. What he had said was that members of the military missions are not free from civil jurisdiction in non-duty matters, having in mind such problems as the refusal of a member of an advisory mission to pay his rent, etc. He said that he made clear that US military men are not subject to arrest but they are subject to the fulfillment of their civil obligations in matters involving Iranian citizens. I said I was glad to receive this clarification.

With regard to the matter of the members of the families, I received the impression that the Prime Minister did indeed believe that they were not covered. He said, "This means that if the son of some general gets involved in a criminal liability, he is immune to criminal jurisdiction?" I replied that this was the case and showed him the relevant section of the Vienna Convention. I also asked him to read the attached paper and, stressed the point made therein that members of the families are an integr difference of views concerning the interpretation or application of the Convention, with regard to a specific case, this could be worked out quietly a between the two governments. The US Government should not be concerned because the full applicability of the Vienna Convention to the military mission had been achieved.

I thanked the Prime Minister for his remarks and once more referred to the undesirability of a dispute between us concerning the Convention and to the need to assure that all we had both worked so hard to achieve was in fact accomplished. I said in passing that when His Majesty had discussed the matter recently with General Eckhardt he had given no indication at all that he had in mind any restriction of the provisions of the Convention as far as the personnel of the military missions was concerned.

I said that I had in mind making available to the Foreign Minister the same paper which I had left with Mr. Mansour, but he asked me not to do this since the necessary corrective action concerning his remarks would be taken.

The Prime Minister subsequently telephoned me to say that he had examine the Persian text of his remarks and there was indeed ground for misinterpret tion of what he had said concerning the members of the families. The text would be edited to contain the meaning which he had explained to me, and therefore there would be no doubt that American dependents would be covered. He further said that in any event his explanatory remarks to the Senate would not have validity as far as the legislation itself was concerned, since they were made after it had been passed and not before.

The Prime Minister then said again that he wanted this matter to be kept between us and not taken up with the Foreign Ministry.

Viewes Convention - Status Bill Prime Minister Mansur, in a comprehensive foreign policy speech before the Senate Saturday. for the first time gave public explanations regarding background and coverage of the status bill. Speech was prominently featured by press, rebroadcast over the radio, and has perceptibly improved public climate surrounding the status question.

As Kayhan International put it. Mansur's speach "in effect made amends for Government's handling of the bill, as far as public was concorned. The Administration's hush-hush line had provided fuel for flickering subers of whatever opposition there is in the country. That fire at one moment threatened to spread, with opposition apparently out to exploit what they thought to be Government's Achilles heel. And because eract terms of the bill were not known, and it was not possible to determine the extent of immunity granted, the critics, working from their pulpit sanctuaries or fifth column hideouts, spread the lie that very independence and sovereignty of Iran were being bartered."

Among deputies and Senators, there is rejoicing that the air has speech Unfortunately, however, Primin's statistics contained not only beloful statements but also mumber of claring inscourscies which look good to the public but apparently involved serious misrepresentation of the bill's coverage. In particular, he was reported to have said three things which are wrong: (1) that, whereas the US had acked dependents t be covered, they are excluded from coverage by the wording of the law; (2) that only on-duty offenses are covered by immunity, apparently without distinction between civil and oriminal offenses; and (3) that, although US had asked all members of advisory missions to be opvared, the law actu covers only those who fulfill technical advisory functions.

Ziai, Chairman of Majlis Foreign Affeire Counittee, acknowledged to us Sunday that these statements correspond meither to the law nor, in particular, to the legislative history. Fonkin told us privately on the same day that he was aware Mansur had said things that were not true; but we could not rely on Area to set things right.

Accordingly. I cought urgent interview with Mansur yesterday and, while congratulating him on the popular success he had/ speech. asked him how we are to report certain apparent mistakes which might be due to misquotation by the press but which could cause future trouble. He backed down all along the way. Resarding families, he said

SUBJECT: Vienna Convention - Status Bill

In response to a summons from the Prime Minister, I went to his office today. Mr. Mansour referred to our discussion yesterday concerning his remarks in the Senate on the subject of the Status Bill. He said that examination of the Persian text revealed that the correct meaning concerning members of the families could be given by changing only one letter in the appropriate words, and that this would be done. He remained strongly opposed to any further public clarification, as this would only heat up the issue again. However, he would convey the substance of our conversation yesterday, to the Foreign Ministry in a memorandum for its files.

I told the Prime Minister that I had fully reported our conversation of yesterday to the Department and that, therefore, his remarks were a matter of record in Washington as well. I referred to his statement that we would be formally notified by the Foreign Ministry concerning the entry into effect of the new legislation and said that with the thought in mind of possibly being helpful, I had prepared some simple language I thought would provide ample clarification of the situation concerning immunities as it could be conveyed to us by the Foreign Ministry at the time of the formal notification. Mr. Mansour asked to see this language and I gave him a copy of the attached paper. He read it and said that as far as he could see there should be no difficulty, but he could not render a final opinion at this time He reiterated, however, that his intention was that the notification from the Foreign Ministry should be satisfactory to us.

Mr. Mansour then said that it had been brought to his attention that members of the Embassy staff were criticizing the way the government had hand the Bill, saying that it would have been better had it been handled this way or that way. This had made him very unhappy, and he would be even unhappier if he heard that such remarks were continuing to be made. I said that that very morning I had instructed the staff to make/comment to Iranians concerning the Status Bill except to say that the law had now been passed and we considered the Vienna Convention to have been applied to the military mission I added that, as he knew, we had been disturbed over the fact that sincere and well-intentioned people might have been genuinely confused, in view of the policy of silence with regard to the implications of the Bill, and that we had informally suggested, to himself and to the appropriate officials of the Foreign Ministry, that it might be desirable for a public explanation to be made. This had now been done, with good results, and I would reiterate to the staff that the line set forth above was to be strictly followd by Embassy personnel. (I think it has done no hard at all for the Prime Minister to have heard that we have not been happy with the way this Bill has been handled. I also think that we must be very careful, at the present time, to avoid further critical comment, since our points have been made.)

With regard to public clarification, the Prime Minister said that his original purpose had been to get the Bill passed with as little discussion as possible, and we should not forget that, while the government had not given wide circulation to its own explanation in the Majlis, it had also prevented from being circulated the vicious and anti-American things said by the Opposition. He admitted that his government had been caught completely by surprise by the clevereness of the Opposition maneuvers, but that it had taken several days for the extent of these maneuvers on the public to become clear. When the harmful effect had become clear, then the government set forth its views for public consumption through his remarks in the Senate.

The Prime Minister confirmed that Mr. BEHBUDI had been fired from his position in the Court because he had encouraged some Deputies to vote against the Bill, through his son who is a member of the Majlis. He said the Shah had been very angry about the whole thing, and that next Turésday Deputies ROMBOD, SARTIP-PUR, and one other Opposition Deputy would speak in favor of the Status Bill. When I remarked that they must have been convinced by the logic of his statement in the Senate, the Prime Minister had the lack of grace to acknowledge that this was the case.

A. Tehran Embtel 495, 2 Nov 64, which suggested a need for further clarification of effect of pending legislation in Iran. Notal.

B. Tehran Embtel 497, 2 Nov 64, which suggested U. S. assume duty to consider waivers of immunity of U. S. personnel in certain cases. Notal.

C. Tehran Embtel 499, 2 Now 64 which clarified GOI statements concernin effect of their bill No. 2157/2291/18. Notal.

D. Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations, 18 Apr 64 which provides for status and privileges of several classes of diplomatic personnel.

1. This headquarters has no objection to a waiver clause in the implementin agreements proposed by references A and B. Present practice in Iran involve Iranian exercise of civil and oriminal jurisdiction over DOD personnal in official duty cases. Reference B will provide immunity from all criminal jurisdiction and also civil jurisdiction in official duty cases. In present political climate, the immunity from civil jurisdiction may create difficulties for IIG. Although Article 32, Reference D, provides that waivers may be granted, the U. S. could, in the interest of securing other benefits, undertake to give sympathetic consideration to requests for waivers. A liberal construction of this undertaking in civil cases will prevent a major departure from prior practice and also preclude insurance companies from avoiding payment of liability claims on basis of insuredbjs immunity.

2. Among the benefits which could be obtained in exchange for a waiver clause is language in the implementing agreement which would include nonadvisory U. S. personnel within the new arrangements. It is suggested that language such as Article 4 of the U.S.-Republic of the Congo Agreement of 24 June 1963 (TIAS 5530) would be appropriate to this purpose. Article 4, in pertinent part, applies Vienna Convention diplomatic agents status to the Chief of the Mission and his YPFuty and further provides, quote: all other personnel of the Mission, including U.S. military personnel temporarily assigned and auxiliary groups of U.S. military personnel who may be serving in, or transiting the Congo, will be accorded the treatment to which technical and administrative personnel of diplomatic missions are entitled under that Convention. Unquote.

> Tehran, Ivan November 6, 1964

Dear James,

Although your letter arrived last week I souldn't around to answering it. I have the report on my hands. I ha planned to write yesterday mills the report was being typed b I was so ill that I had to goll the deptor. After what seems be a veritable mountain of pills I feel somewhat better today Recent events, which you will learn shout from the official report, have gladdened ar heart. At last we have be able to get rid of the mischievous eld man who has been puttin a spoke into our wheels. The local biggeris had ordered his a pulsion. At present he's living in a separatorate Turkiek hea and tries to convert poor Sumitee. There is a great deal to knop us busy. For the time being we shall have to give we we seatern idyl. It's so easy to fall into the mative routing. I have purchased three ministures as you request
