QUESTIONS FOR ARIEL “ARI” ZEV EMANUEL

Political Vulnerabilities

Lifelong Democrat

Background: Emanuel is a lifelong Democrat and the brother of Rahm Emanuel. While his fundraising and donation history is sporadic, he was considerably active for Democrats and Obama in 2008 and 2012.

- As a registered Democrat, and someone who has financially supported Democrats, do you have any reservations about working in a Republican administration, and if so what are they?
- Will you agree to cease all political activity and donations in support of Democratic candidates and causes inconsistent with the political goals of the President-elect while working within the administration?
- Do you believe the aggressive rhetoric of this past campaign season has damaged Mr. Trump’s ability to govern?

Hedging on Mr. Trump during the Campaign

Background: During the campaign, Emanuel refused to answer whether he would welcome Trump back as a client if he lost the election. However, it should be noted Emanuel does have a lengthy positive professional history with Trump.

- Given your history working with Mr. Trump, your lack of support during the campaign was notable. Do you have any doubt you will be able to publicly back the President during turbulent times should you join the administration?
- Will you have any personal issues during times when the Trump administration faces partisan criticism from Democrats, including your brother Rahm or President Obama?

Environment At Emanuel's Endeavor

Background: In 2002, Emanuel's company was sued by an employee for allowing "rampant pot-smoking, obscene hazing at corporate retreats, [and] sexual frolics on desks." Emanuel was also accused of making antigay and racist slurs (the lawsuit was settled out of court).

- Was there any truth to the allegations made about the work culture at your company, and if not why did the company decide to settle with the plaintiff?
- Would it be at all likely that former employees might emerge with public accusations similar to those outlined in this lawsuit?
- Has there been any event or problem at Endeavor that could arise and create issues should you join the administration?

Past Business Relationship with Trump

Background: Mr. Trump has been a client of Emanuel's for years. Emanuel's firm also recently purchased Mr. Trump's Miss Universe Pageant In 2015.

- Do you believe any past business relationships with Mr. Trump would create any appearance of a conflict of interest were you to join the administration?

Policy Questions

Gun Control

Background: Emanuel is a staunch advocate for gun control and was extremely vocal following the 2012 Newtown shooting.

- Will you have moral and ethical qualm being a member of an administration that will likely emphasize 2nd amendment rights and often oppose further regulation of firearms?
- Should a major shooting occur and the debate in Washington turn partisan, will you be able to stand by the President?

TRUMP-PENCE

Trump

In March 2016, Emanuel Refused To Answer Whether He Would Welcome Trump Back As A Client If He Lost The Election. "[The Hollywood Reporter:] Donald Trump was a WME client. You guys are both committed Democrats and have contributed to Hillary in this campaign. Given some of Trump's rhetoric, would you have him back as a client after the election if he doesn't win? EMANUEL: I'm not contemplating any of that. I'm not delving into that conversation with you." (Matthew Belloni, "Ari Emanuel and Patrick Whitesell Unleashed WME IMG's Strategy, IPO Plans, China And The Doubters," The Hollywood Reporter; 3/30/16)

- When Asked About The Presidential Race In Depth, Emanuel Said "I Don't Want To Talk About Political Issues." "[The Hollywood Reporter: Do you think Hillary has a Hollywood enthusiasm problem? EMANUEL: Probably her best friend is Haim [Saban], so he's probably working through that, and there's some other supporters. I think it's contingent on whom she faces. So ... [The Hollywood Reporter:] If it's a Trump-Hillary battle? EMANUEL: I can give you my brother's number, he'll be happy to [talk]. I don't want him to talk about Hollywood, and I don't want to talk about political issues.” (Matthew Belloni, “Ari Emanuel and Patrick Whitesell Unleashed WME IMG’s Strategy, IPO Plans, China And The Doubters,” The Hollywood Reporter, 3/30/16)

Pence

No Known Pence Remarks

A Spokesman For Ari Emanuel’s Brother, Chicago Mayor Rahm Emanuel, Said That Rahm “Had A Working Relationship” With Pence When The Two Served In The House Of Representatives, Citing The Fact That Their Offices On Capitol Hill Shared A Hallway. “Emanuel spokesman Adam Collins said Trump and the mayor have met before and spoken on the phone, but did not provide any additional detail. The two have not spoken since the election, he said. Collins also noted that Emanuel has had a working relationship with Vice President-elect Mike Pence. The two worked together in Congress, he said, with their offices sharing the same hallway in the Longworth House Office Building in Washington.”

Mark Warner.” (“White House Correspondents Dinner Guest List The Latest,” Politico 4/27/12)

GENERAL CONTROVERSY

Blacklisting Mel Gibson

In 2006, After Mel Gibson Reportedly Made Anti-Semitic Remarks While Being Arrested, Ari Emanuel Publicly Suggested That Hollywood Should “Professionally [Shun] Mel Gibson And Refus[e] To Work With Him.” “At a time of escalating tensions in the world, the entertainment industry cannot idly stand by and allow Mel Gibson to get away with such tragically inflammatory statements. When The Passion of the Christ came out, Gibson was quoted as categorically denying any anti-Semitism attributed to him: ‘For me, it goes against the tenets of my faith, to be racist in any form. To be anti-Semitic is a sin. It’s been condemned by one Papal Council after another. There’s encyclicals on it, which is, you know to be anti-Semitic is to be unchristian, and I’m not.’ Now we know the truth. And no amount of publicist-approved contrition can paper it over. People in the entertainment community, whether Jew or gentile, need to demonstrate that they understand how much is at stake in this by

professionally shunning Mel Gibson and refusing to work with him, even if it means a sacrifice to their bottom line.” (Ari Emanuel, “The Bottom Line On Mel Gibson’s Anti-Semitic Remarks,” The Huffington Post 7/30/06)

Sandra Epstein Lawsuit Against Endeavor

In 2002, A Former Agent, Sandra Epstein, Sued Endeavor For Sexual Harassment, Which The Agency Ultimately Settled For $2.25 Million. “In April 2002, an agent named Sandra Epstein sued Endeavor, alleging, among other things, sexual harassment and pointing out that at one point she had been the lone woman among a dozen male agents. According to court papers, Ms. Epstein ultimately settled her claims for $2.25 million. But not before underwriters at Lloyd’s of London, Endeavor’s insurer, canceled the agency’s employment practices policy, provoking a second suit by Endeavor against Lloyd’s and a law firm the insurers had been paying to represent the agency.” (Michael Cieply, “Agent Replaying A Hollywood Drama,” The New York Times, 7/27/08)

In Court Filings, Epstein Accused The Agency Of Allowing “Rampant Pot-Smoking, Obscene Hazing At Corporate Retreats, [And] Sexual Frolics On Desks.” “In depositions and court filings in the second suit ultimately settled under undisclosed terms Ms. Epstein and other Endeavor employees described office escapades that included rampant pot-smoking, obscene hazing at corporate retreats, sexual frolics on desks, and one agent demanding that his assistants book prostitutes for him.” (Michael Cieply, “Agent Replaying A Hollywood Drama,” The New York Times 7/27/08)

Epstein Alleged That Emanuel “Allowed A Friend To Operate A Pornographic Website Out Of The Agency’s Quarters” And Made “Antigay And Racist Remarks.” “Mr. Emanuel, the filings said, allowed a friend to operate a pornographic Web site out of the agency’s quarters. Also, according to Ms. Epstein’s filings, Mr. Emanuel made antigay and racist remarks accusations he disputed at the time. Ms. Epstein said Mr. Emanuel blocked her from sending a script about the Navy Seals to the actor Wesley Snipes. ‘That is the dumbest thing I’ve ever heard,’ the agent was reported in the papers to have said. ‘Everyone knows that blacks don’t swim.’” (Michael Cieply, “Agent Replaying A Hollywood Drama,” The New York Times 7/27/08)

CONTROVERSIAL POLICY STANCES/STATEMENTS

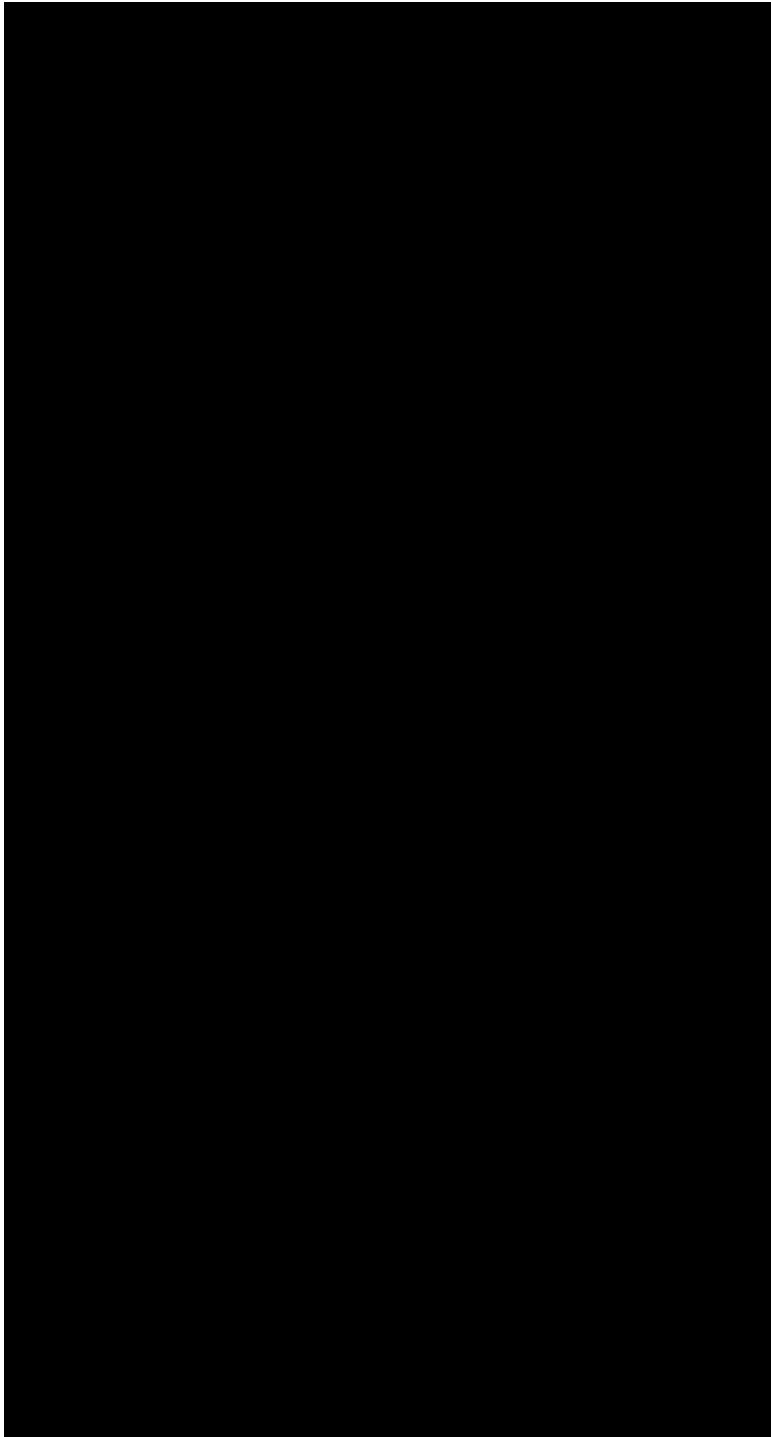

Gun Control

In A December 2012 Blog Post In The Wake Of The Newtown Shooting, Emanuel Argued For Further Gun Control, Saying “There Is No Excuse To Put This Off Another Year, Another Election Cycle.” “There is no way to ignore the tragedy that took place in Newtown. It weighs on us as a country. As a parent it is unfathomable, and compels me to question how this could have happened. I am the first to acknowledge that the issue of gun control is complicated and has many sides. I am not here to educate anyone on the matter. But just because something is complicated doesn’t mean that we should just throw our hands up. It actually means that it matters and that we need to come to the table and figure this out. As I’ve said before, if you’re looking for an excuse to fail, you will always find one. We have failed as a country if we cannot find a solution that keeps our children, schools and families safe. This means taking a stance- demanding from our politicians that we move past the rhetoric, fear and focus on re-election and solve the problem that cuts at the very core of our freedom- the ability for our children to go to school safely. There is no excuse to put this off another year, another election cycle- we have to require action." (Ari Emanuel, "Let s Do Something," LinkedIn 12/18/12)

Hosting Democrat Fundraisers

In 2008, Emanuel Was Described As "Frequently" Hosting Democratic Fundraisers. "Politically, Ari Emanuel and Endeavor frequently host Democratic fundraisers, which have included a $2,300-a-plate dinner for Barack Obama, at Emanuel's home. With the appointment of his brother to White House chief of staff, Hollywood and Washington just got a lot closer. 'Rahm has been a very powerful guy in government for a long time, and Ari has been a guy that cares about things for a long time and is connected to people who can help with money,' Sorkin said. 'There have been any number of fundraisers Ari has thrown on behalf of Rahm or the DCC, or for any cause that Ari feels passionate about.'" (Danielle Berrin, "Rahm Emanuel's Brother, Ari Emanuel, Is A Hollywood Superagent," Jewish Journal 11/6/08)

BUSINESSES/ASSOCIATIONS

Donald Trump

In A June 2016 Interview Trump Described Emanuel As “A Very Good Friend Of Mine,” Saying He Frequently Talked To Him On The Phone. “Among his frequent media and now political confidants is WME co-CEO Ari Emanuel whose brother, Rahm, the mayor of Chicago, was once Obama's chief of staff whom Trump says has offered to take charge of the Trump celebratory convention film. Emanuel and Trump, while at seeming odds politically, might in fact be even better united in a kind of hyper salesmanship. ‘He's a very good friend of mine,’ says Trump. ‘He calls me a lot. I call him a lot and we talk. He's very political. Even though he's not political, he's political. He gets it. You're shocked to hear that, right? [About the movie.] But yeah, I might do something with Ari. Does he represent you?’” (Michael Wolff, “The Donald Trump Conversation Politics ‘Dark Heart Is Having The Best Time Anyone s Ever Had,” The Hollywood Reporter 6/1/16)

Trump Said That Emanuel Had Offered “To Take Charge” Of A Film To Be Played At The Republican National Convention About Trump. “Among his frequent media and now political confidants is WME co-CEO Ari Emanuel whose brother, Rahm, the mayor of Chicago, was once Obama's chief of staff whom Trump says has offered to take charge of the Trump celebratory convention film.” (Michael Wolff, “The Donald Trump Conversation Politics ‘Dark Heart Is Having The Best Time Anyone s Ever Had,” The Hollywood Reporter 6/1/16)

- A Spokesman For William Morris Later Said That “The Agency Had No Plans To Work On A Film” About Trump For The Convention. “A spokesman for WME Entertainment said that the agency had no plans to work on a film for the Republican National Convention, after Donald Trump suggested in an interview that agency chieftan Ari Emanuel had offered to take charge of the project.” (Ted Johnson, “WME We re Not Doing Trump s Convention Film,” Variety 6/1/16)

Trump Said He Donated $50,000 To Rahm Emanuel’s Campaign In His First Run For Mayor Because Ari Asked Him To. “In a June 2015 meeting with the Chicago Tribune Editorial Board, Trump said he did not know Gov. Bruce Rauner, but had kind words for Rahm Emanuel and cited his $50,000 campaign contribution to Emanuel's first run for mayor. ‘I don't know Bruce, but I do respect Rahm,’ Trump said. ‘I gave him a contribution because his brother is a great friend of mine Ari, king of Hollywood. I love Ari. And Ari asked me to give him a contribution. I like Rahm very much.’” (Rick Pearson, Bill Ruthhart, and Kim Geiger, “Few Illinoisans Will Have Clout With The New President Democrats Out In Cold,” The Chicago Tribune 11/11/16)

Emanuel’s William Morris Endeavor Agency Once Represented Trump. “Emanuel's agency William Morris Endeavor once represented Trump, according to Variety, but it's unclear what their business relationship is now.” (Tracy Swartz, “Trump Says Ari Emanuel Offered To Take Charge Of His Convention Film,” The Chicago Tribune 6/2/16)

Miss Universe

In September 2015, Emanuel’s William Morris Endeavor Agency, Also Known AS WME-IMG, Purchased The Miss Universe Pageant From Trump. “WME | IMG has acquired Donald Trump's Miss Universe Organization, the agency announced on Monday. The news follows reports on Friday that the agency was in talks to acquire the pageant organization after Trump said he'd become the sole owner by purchasing NBCUniversal's stake.” (“WME IMG Acquires Donald Trump s Miss Universe Organization,” The Hollywood Reporter 9/14/15)

When Asked About The Deal, Emanuel Said Trump “Wanted To Sell It. ‘Great, We Want To Buy It.’” “[The Hollywood Reporter:] OK. How did the deal with Trump for Miss Universe come together? EMANUEL: There was a problem. He was running [for president]. He wanted to sell it. ‘Great, we want to buy it.’” (Matthew Belloni, “Ari Emanuel and Patrick Whitesell Unleashed WME IMG’s Strategy, IPO Plans, China And The Doubters,” The Hollywood Reporter, 3/30/16)

Joe Scarborough & Trump: The Musical

MSNBC “Morning Joe” Host Joe Scarborough Is An Emanuel Client. “After that, Scarborough and his agent, Ari Emanuel, would have what they needed to start lining up financial backers to stage a production. Scarborough’s wide, expectant smile belied any insecurity, any sense that this might be a daunting field to jump into.” (Jason Zengerle, “Joe Scarborough Has Big Dreams (Including ‘Trump The Musical’),” GQ, 9/17/16)

In September 2016, A GQ Interview With Scarborough Revealed That He Was Working On Producing “Trump: The Musical.” “Finally, he gave me his scoop. ‘I’m working on a musical,’ he said. ‘It’s Trump: The Musical.’ I laughed, but when I realized he wasn’t joking, my amusement gave way to admiration for what Scarborough had glimpsed for himself: opportunity. A character he once imagined in the White House he now envisioned on Broadway. ‘It’s actually Hamilton meets The Book of Mormon,’ Scarborough gushed, pitching his conceit for the comic romp.” (Jason Zengerle, “Joe Scarborough Has Big Dreams (Including ‘Trump The Musical’),” GQ 9/17/16)

Scarborough Said That He Would Work With Ari Emanuel To Line Up “Financial Backers To Stage A Production” Of The Musical. “The snippet I’d heard was rough – just a demo, Scarborough reminded me, sung by a friend of his – but in a month, he’d visit a New York City studio to produce a more polished version. There, David Cook, Taylor Swift’s band director, would man the soundboard, and Rory O’Malley, who currently brings down the house as King George III in Hamilton, would handle the vocal work. After that, Scarborough and his agent, Ari Emanuel, would have what they needed to start lining up financial backers to stage a production. Scarborough’s wide, expectant smile belied any insecurity, any sense that this might be a daunting field to jump into.” (Jason Zengerle, “Joe Scarborough Has Big Dreams (Including ‘Trump The Musical’),” GQ, 9/17/16)

UFC

In July 2016, Emanuel’s Agency Purchased The Ultimate Fighting Championship (UFC) For A Reported $4 Billion. “Chicago Mayor Rahm Emanuel’s Hollywood power-broker brother is now an owner of the Ultimate Fighting Championship, which, given their reputations, sounds like something first won in or around their North Shore home growing up. Instead, Ari Emanuel’s WME/IMG agency has acquired the mixed martial arts empire, whose bouts have proved a potent pay-per-view and digital streaming draw, especially among millennials, for a reported $4 billion.” (Phil Rosenthal, “Brawl In The Family Mayor Rahm Emanuel’s Bro Makes $4 Billion Bet On UFC,” The Chicago Tribune, 7/12/16)
