Date of transcription 02/23/2012

On 02/17/2012 SA Bridgeforth conducted a surveillance at 5123 Riverside Station Blvd., Secaucus, New Jersey. The purpose of the surveillance was to confirm the location of the Subject's residence in preparation of a Sacramento search warrant.

The provided address is an apartment complex located in the XChange at Secaucus Junction, 5000 Riverside Station Blvd., Secaucus, New Jersey, telephone number 877-870-1515. The complex is new construction and isolated on a large plot of land. There is one entrance and parking on the perimeter of the buildings as well as in an enclosed parking lot. The complex has 24-hour roving security. Each building has multiple floors and ground level entry and exits which are secured via access cards. In addition there are several shuttle stops located throughout the complex that provide service to the local train station. There is also a walking bridge which can be used to travel to the train station. The residents of this complex access their apartments from hallways internal to the buildings. The only way for non-residents to access the building is through a security checkpoint in the main lobby. The following observations were made at the approximate times noted:

Time	Activity
05:30 AM	Stationed in the area of 5123 Riverside Station Blvd. observing the outside windows and porch of apartment 5123. No lights or signs of motion are observed.
05:35 AM	Roving security guard drives by surveillance vehicle and notices Writer sitting stationary.
05:45 AM	Writer exits vehicle and attempts to gain access to inner court yard through security gate. Gate required security access card. Attempt was unsuccessful.
05:48 AM	Roving security guard drives by and notices Writer walking near security gate.
05:51 AM	Writer returns to surveillance vehicle to observe outside windows and porch of apartment 5123. No lights or signs of motion are visible from the apartment.

- 06:10 AM Writer departs location and drives around the apartment complex identifying entry and exit points to the building.
- 06:20 AM Residents are observed boarding a shuttle bus at one of several pick up locations around the complex.
- 06:25 AM Writer attempts to enter the complex through a security checkpoint in the main lobby of building 3000. The doors to the lobby were locked. Entry could only be gained using an access card. A video monitor displayed the security desk in an adjacent building.
- 6:30 AM Writer traveled to the security checkpoint in the main lobby of building 1000. The Security Specialist provided the contact information for DAVE CARTER, Head of Security for building 5000, telephone numbers 973-583-6250 and 201-533-8590. CARTER works from 08:00 AM until 04:00 PM.
- 6:40 AM Writer returns to the area of 5123 Riverside Station Blvd. to observe the outside windows and porch of apartment 5123. No lights or signs of motion are observed.
- 6:42 AM Roving security guard drives by surveillance vehicle and notices Writer sitting stationary.
- 6:50 AM Surveillance area is completely illuminated by the morning sun. Some residents have boarded shuttle buses or left the complex via personal vehicles.
- 6:55 AM Surveillance discontinued.

The large size of the apartment complex, and requirement to gain internal access to the building or cover multiple entry, exit, and shuttle stops, hamper the standard surveillance operation from visually identifying the Subject. In addition, the roving security guard can easily identify surveillance vehicles as the complex is isolated with no other buildings in the outlining area. Newark has confirmed through a United States Postal Service check that the Subject receives mail at the residence. Newark can also request confirmation that the Subject resides at the location through the apartment complex administration/security, at Sacramento's discretion.
